Thoughts (Some Reassuring) on Township Re-assessment Program

"Your property is a kind of goldmine, you know," said the cheerful voice in the Township Tax Office.

"Then I'd better get out in my back yard and start digging!"

It's not nearly that bad — really it isn't. Township residents who've gone straight through the roof after reading their new re-assessments, and Township residents who have not yet received theirs and are waiting with clammy palms for the mailman, were reassured this week by Stuart Robson Jr., of Nassau Revaluation and Appraisal Company, the firm that has just completed re-assessment of all Township properties.

"Your taxes, under re-assessment, should be just about the same," Mr. Robson says soothingly, "except, of course, for the usual and inevitable increase in school, county and local taxes that we get every year."

This Friday and Saturday, Mr. Robson and Ronald A. Carini, president of Nassau Revaluation, and a couple of assistants, will sit down in Township Hall for the first in a four-week series of meetings with property-owners who have questions about their new re-assessment.

When you receive your re-assessment notice in the mail, you'll also receive an assigned day and time to appear in Township Hall for an interview. If the time assigned to you isn't convenient, you can change it.

"This isn't an arbitrary thing at all," Mr. Robson emphasizes, "we're happy to listen to what property-owners have to say about their new re-assessment. We'll go over the figures and then send a card within three weeks, informing people of our final decision. Appeals can be made to the county's Board of Taxation."

The point of re-assessment is not to squeeze more tax money out of the property-owner, but to even things up so that everybody pays his fair share. The Township decided that re-assessment was in order when Mercer County announced that it would require municipalities to assess at 100% of true value instead of the present 50%.

Actually, the way housing prices have been climbing in the Township, the municipality has been assessing closer to 40% than to 50%, so a re-examination was clearly in order.

The last re-examination was in 1966. It was a full-scale reevaluation — different from a re-assessment — in which experts visited individual houses, toured the rooms and made notes.

This time, no visits were made to individual homes. Instead, the Carini-Robson firm delved into the records of real-estate sales in the Township over the past five years. Township-wide, they found that values have gone up 45% to 50% since 1966.

This, of course, is what makes taxpayers rend their garments. "My house? Worth 50% more? My taxes will ruin me!"

Not at all. Because, at 100% assessment instead of the present 50%, the tax rate will be quite different. Classically and logically, it should be precisely one-half its

Conservationists Lose as Borough Rejects Ban-the-Bottle Ordinance

The Borough's ban-the-bottle ordinance was tossed on the scrap-heap Tuesday night by a 3-2 rejection. Only Councilmen John Strange and Martin Lombardo voted "yes." Councilmen Robert Hendry, Alice Male and Joseph Moore voted "no" and Councilman Charles Cornforth was absent. Mayor Robert W. Cawley, who doesn't have a vote, urged passage of the ordinance after he and Council had listened to more than half an hour — including four minutes of a color sound film which helped to stretch this particular Council meeting into a late-late show — of testimony from both sides.

Although the mayor begged speakers not to repeat the three hours of testimony Council had sat through at the October 9 ban-the-bottle hearing, some of it sounded very familiar indeed.

Spokesmen for American Can (that's the company with the film), the New Jersey brewing industry, and the U.S. Brewers Association urged defeat of the ordinance, although not necessarily in such brutal terms.

American Can's man spoke feelingly of the litter problem (his film showed a Litter-Gulper that scoops up roadside debris), and the Brewers Association asked for a volunteer program instead of a law and the state brewers asked deferment of the ordinance until the state takes some action.

A Lobby at Work. Mrs. Stanton Waterman, a non-returnable stalwart, spoke tartly of the "vast industrial lobby" working against these ordinances across the country, and warned the Borough of court action by companies if the measure passed.

West Windsor, in the person of Committeeman Theodore Peck, asked Council to pass the measure, and Mr. Peck promised to introduce one in his municipality if so. Hightstown conservationists asked for passage, also.

Tuesday morning, Mayor Cawley told the press he wasn't sure how the vote would go, and Tuesday evening, Councilman Strange made a lengthy speech in favor of the ordinance, addressing his remarks presumably to his colleagues in hope of conversions.

"There has been more intense and intensive lobbying involved with this ordinance than with any I've seen," he told Council. He charged that discussions of litter and Litter-Gulpers were "diversions" from the main issue, which he said is conservation of natural resources.

This Is Princeton

Intimidation Charged. He cited what he called "threats" from opponents: the threat of court action, the threat not to supply a particular beverage to certain dealers, and so on.

He admitted that he had some reservations about the ordinance, especially because so few local people had been heard. He mentioned Archie Brown of Wine and Game as one of the most co-operative local merchants concerned with the measure and its issues.

When consumer resistance was advocated, consumers in the audience described the difficulties of ferreting out returnable bottles in liquor stores and supermarkets.

"Protest to your store manager!" someone said, and several replied, "We already have!"

"Don't buy the damned stuff," suggested John Hamner, 101 Library Place.

Mr. Hendry explained that he was voting "no" because he thought the state ought to act. "It's impractical to legislate Nassau Street," he commented.

Mr. Moore and Mrs. Male did not explain their votes.

Housing. After spending about an hour at the anvil, trying to hammer out a revised ordinance almost from raw material, Council in some embarrassment went into a ten-minute caucus and decided to start all over again on the housing registration ordinance.

It will be re-introduced in amended form at a special Council meeting Tuesday, November 23, at 7:30 p.m. The companion rental housing inspection ordinance will be discussed at the same time.

Both ordinances were on the agenda for public hearing and expected passage—or at least action—but complications developed. Should a tenant's name be part of the registration, for example? And what about registering University dormitory units? (Or similar units in other institutions?)

Mrs. Barbara Diamond, who lives in the Township, asked if Council had considered the civil liberties aspects of such a registration.

"I am appalled to think that you are not appalled by this," he said to Mr. Strange.

Mayor Cawley added that he was bothered by it, too.

Attorney Garrett Heher for the University, offered to meet with Council to work out some of these details before November 23.

Drug Commission. Council joined the Township and the Princeton Regional School Board to establish a new governmental Drug Commission. It will consist of a minimum of five members: one from the school board and one each from the two Boards of Health and the two governing bodies. Three more members may be named, with the approval of the three underwriting bodies.

"Appointment of a municipal Police Commissioner to this body might be resented by the youths the body is meant to serve," Mrs. Diamond declared. The Borough's acting Police Commissioner has been Mrs. Male. However, later in the evening Mayor Cawley restored the Commissioner's badge to Councilman Hendry. He had resigned the post temporarily while he ran (unsuccessfully) for State Assembly.

The "Committee of Ten," sometimes called "The Len Brown Committee," will be asked to provide advice and guidance in all areas of the drug problem Council announced.

More Housing. Council introduced an ordinance designed to beef up the Borough's lower and middle-income housing areas. Bank Street, the north side of Park Place and houses fronting on William Street, between Charlton and Olden, will be restored to the R-4 zone. They are now RO-1, which is Residential-Office.

The recommendation came from the Regional Planning Board which will hold a public hearing December 7 on the necessary Master Plan map change. Council's own hearing on the zoning change will be December 14.

The Planning Board also wants Council to ask the state for legislation that would allow Borough and Township to assess property owners on both sides of a street if a sidewalk is laid on one side only. Council will discuss, at its agenda session, amending the Master Plans of Borough and Township for sidewalks and bike paths.

Robert van de Velde, 222 Western Way, wrote Council that he had discovered the land in front of the Princeton Post Office to be Borough-owned and not Federally-owned. That being the case, he said, remove the American Legion and Marine Corps recruiting posters.

"We'll write the Marines, and we'll see what we can do about the Legion sign," promised Mayor Cawley.

Recount Still Possible

Township Republicans have until this Friday to decide whether they'll ask for a recount of last week's election results.

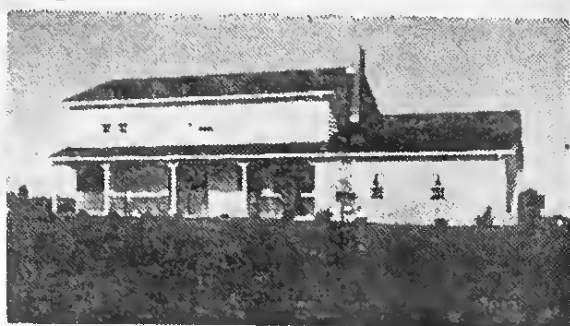

One Republican candidate, John Kuser, lost by nine votes to incumbent Democrat James A. Floyd. The Township's Republican Municipal Chairman, Frank Reiche, has been consulting with Republican committeemen and committeewomen from the municipality's 11 districts and he said this week that a decision may be reached Wednesday or Thursday.

Election laws allow a ten-day period for deciding whether to file for a recount. The judge who hears the recount sets the fee, but the maximum he can set is $25 per district. For the Republicans that would mean $275. Absentee ballots would be included without extra charge.

Township Re-assessment

present $7.96, in order to match the change in assessment from 50% to 100%. It won't be, of course. But it will have to be, by simple mathematics, much lower than $7.96.

When Mr. Robson says reassuringly that your taxes won't be too much different — aside from normal increments — this is the way he figures it out.

For Example. Take the $40,000 house that officials use as a yardstick in the Township. Under the 50% assessment, the house is being taxed as a $20,000 house with a $7.96 tax rate.

Reassessment shows that the $40,000 house has increased in value to $55,000. But under 100% assessment, it might be taxed at a rate of, shall we say, $2.75 per $100 of assessed valuation. And a tax rate of $2.75 for a $55,000 house isn't too much different from a $7.96 rate at the previous valuation.

Also, the Curini Robson work seems to show that as a result of re-assessment, Township revenues may be up by about 45%.

The figures used above, naturally are only illustrative figures because nobody knows what the tax rate will be. Homeowners themselves won't see their new taxes until the bill that comes in the mail next June.

Township properties that have increased the most in value since 1966 are those in the B'nai B'rith, Shadybrook and Riverside Mr. Robson reports. These houses are worth about 50% more than they were five years ago.

Equalization Sought. Homes elsewhere may have increased by only 30% or 35%. These home owners, Mr. Robson points out, have been bearing an unfairly large share of the tax load since 1966, and the re-assessment equalizes that burden.

"We've taken a market approach to value," Mr. Robson explains. "We are asking people, in a sense, 'What would it cost you to replace this house at current market prices?' And all they have to do it look at the weekly ads of real estate firms to see what has happened to home prices in the Township in recent years."

"Land values have increased more than the actual value of a house," he continues, "because no depreciation is involved in land."

State law requires separation of land value and "improvement" (i.e., house) value, and owners of modest houses on a quarter-acre of Township land have been staggered to find their land valued at, say, $12,200. Does this really mean the land is worth almost $50,000 an acre?

In a way it does. Not much land remains in the Township's quarter-acre zone, and anybody who owns a vacant acre which might be subdivided, does indeed have land worth $50,000 an acre or, as the Tax Office visitor learned, "a gold mine in the back yard."

Formula Explained. The Curini Robson calculations are based on the New Jersey Real Property Appraisal manual. Using Tax Office files on each Township property, the re-assessors figured the house's square footage, number of bathrooms, garage, fireplace. Then, applying the indices in the manual, they came up with the price of building the house at today's construction costs.

A depreciation allowance of about 1% a year was then applied, giving a 1961 house a break of about 10%. If the resulting figure was $26,000 and the house recently sold for $42,000, the land was then valued at $16,000.

Swimming pools, by the way, were immediately depreciated by 50%. Not every buyer wants a pool; in fact, a home-and-pool owner could lose a sale to a family that likes the house but doesn't swim.

"You may have paid $4,000 for that pool, but it doesn't add $4,000 to the value of your house," is Mr. Robson's observation. "You might say you've been paying taxes for the use of the pool."

What about garages? Suppose you sacrificed a garage to make an extra room?

Matter of Preference. "Some buyers wouldn't buy a house that didn't have a garage, but there are quite a few sales of garage-less houses," he replies. "A finished room has been calculated on a square-footage basis along with the rest of the house. A garage counts for less."

When property owners meet with assessors in Township Hall, Mr. Robson thinks "they may point out factors we aren't aware of."

Flood damage, for example. The assessors don't feel they can lower the value of a house just because the basement was flooded ("everybody had a flooded basement in that August flood"). But very serious flood damage might well be taken into consideration.

Perhaps you have an odd-sized lot. If you live in a half-acre zone, for example, and own three quarters of an acre, your extra quarter-acre is not a buildable lot, and presumably couldn't be sold for your profit.

And what about paint? Suppose your house is a tatter of peeling paint. Should it be valued lower because it needs paint?

Township re-assessment has implications that go beyond fairness to each taxpayer. State aid for schools, for example, is based on a formula involving the ratio of assessed valuation to selling price. Also, the utilities tax — and the telephone company is about the only institution affected by this — is involved too, and the Township stands to benefit on both counts.

But in the sharing of joint operations with the Borough, the cloud darkens. Facilities like the library and the swimming pool (but not the schools) are financed by a formula based on equalized valuation.

Right now, the Township is paying 66% of the cost of all joint operations and the Borough, 34%. As assessments climb in the Township, the Township's percentage share of these joint costs will climb, too. Because of the normal lag, this increased percentage won't hit the Township taxpayer until 1973, but the blow could be quite significant.

The Borough hasn't made any moves toward re-assessment. The most recent action was re-evaluation in 1966.

Settlement Reached in Football Dispute at Princeton High

A statement hammered out between the Board of Education and the Princeton High School football coaches has brought an end—at least till the season is over—of the discord that had erupted between them over the dismissal of a black player from the team. The statement reads: "With the best interests of the students and the community foremost, the Board of Education and the coaches of the Princeton Regional Schools agree to the following:

"The board recognizes the necessity of supporting the right of the coaches to administer discipline in athletic matters and therefore reaffirms for the future a general policy of not disturbing the discipline administered by the coach to a pupil. "The board and the athletic staff will establish a committee for the development of guidelines for the athletic program."

A Job for Dr. Wertheimer. Forming the committee should be the job of PHS Principal Patricia Wertheimer, said school board member president Robert Bierman this week, adding that he hoped at Tuesday night's executive board meeting to "encourage" the school board to feel this way, too.

"Basically, it's her responsibility to get the help she needs," Dr. Bierman said. "She ought to work with athletes and coaches and get them to help her make recommendations to McPherson and the board as to what the guidelines should be for athletes and coaches."

Dr. Wertheimer says she has already sent to Dr. McPherson a suggested list of people who might be on this committee. She would like it to be district-wide, she said, not simply representative of the high school, and she would like it to include boy and girl athletes, coaches elected from the staff and administrators.

"It is important to move

Over-ruling 'OK': Wertheimer

"People are going around saying it's a shame McPherson over-ruled Wertheimer, but I don't see it that way at all, and I'm perfectly happy to abide by his decision."

Dr. Patricia Wertheimer, principal of Princeton High, spoke in this vein to the assembled faculty on Monday afternoon, and later explained her views informally.

Dr. Wertheimer had backed PHS Head Coach Dick Wood in his suspension from the team of football player Wesley Hines. Young Hines appealed his suspension to Superintendent Philip E. McPherson, who heard the appeal and then reversed the Wertheimer-Wood decision and allowed Hines back on the team.

"I don't regret my decision to support the coaches and I would do the same thing again," the principal said, "but I realize and respect the right of the superintendent and board to do as they did: they simply saw the issues differently. I haven't any grudges, and I don't feel the school is hamstrung in any way."

"I'm in a position to know how many hours the superintendent spent over this—I think we're lucky to have a superintendent who would give that kind of time. The fast," she warned, and Dr. Bierman seconded her. "We haven't any deadline," he said, "but who can be suspended from the team for what has to be decided fast."

Wesley Hines, the defensive back who was suspended from the team on October 12 for swearing at assistant coach William Cirullo and whose subsequent appeal of that decision to the school administration touched off the two-week issues here are not easy: the 'right' isn't on any one particular side and I can see the validity of many different points of view.

"But I do want to emphasize that I don't feel hampered at all by the superintendent's action. I don't need 'carte blanche,' you know! I'm perfectly willing to have the superintendent say 'Look, this isn't the way to do it.' And what I'd like to say to the community is, any support for me that involves an attack on the superintendent is misplaced."

scuffle, returned to practice last Wednesday, the day after the statement was issued.

The team had two days of calisthenics and one day of practice (Thursday) before meeting Steinert High School here Saturday. Despite their limited preparation, the Little Tigers played their best game of the season before losing to top-ranked Steinert, 18-7. Their record is now 0-6.

Hines was one of 27 to suit up for the game but he did not play. Coach Richard Wood explained that Hines had not shown up for the one day of hard practice on Thursday and as a result had not had any contact for the past three weeks.

The three other remaining blacks on the team—end Arlice Hines, back Dane Black and guard Tony Towns—played. More adult spectators were in the PHS stands for the Steinert game than for any previous game this season.

Still Plans to Coach. The soft-spoken Mr. Wood, who has been a football coach the last 30 years at PHS, the last ten as head coach, was obviously disturbed over the turmoil that erupted. But he indicated that he has no intention of stepping down at least for a few years.

The bulk of the present squad is comprised of juniors. The sophomore squad is undefeated this year. In short, the next two years should be good football seasons at PHS and Mr. Wood is loath to depart now, even though he says, at 57, "I'm getting to an age when it's time to end. I would like to go out a winner," he said.

"IDA" IS OK

Say Planners. The Institute for Defense Analyses, whose University campus building was besieged by student protesters in the spring of 1970, has been granted approval for construction of a two-story building off Terhune Road in the Township's Office-Research zone.

The approval, subject to IDA's control of run-off water and the glare from security lights, was granted at last week's meeting of the Regional Planning Board.

All that IDA needed was site plan approval from the Township's Environmental Design Review (site-plan) committee. The structure meets zoning requirements.

The $1.7 million building, plus the value of its 6.8 acres of land, could bring the Township about $70,000 in tax money. IDA is a private research firm which has U.S. Defense Department contracts. It will build and own the new building, and could move in next year, provided mortgage money is forthcoming.

In other business, the Planning Board granted approval to the Nassau Club on Mercer Street, for a series of improvements. About half a dozen Planning Board members abstained in the vote because they are members of the Nassau Club.

A FIRST FOR MERCER

In New Type of Traffic Signal. The Department of Transportation this week will install a "remote" control traffic signal, the first of its kind in the United States, in an effort to improve the flow of traffic through the White Horse Circle, Hamilton Township, Mercer County.

Beginning on Thursday, northbound U.S. Route 206 motorists approaching the White Horse Circle will find their progress halted briefly by a newly installed traffic signal at a location on the highway where there is no intersection.

Two large highway signs posted at the location will explain the purpose of the signal. The signs, 5 foot by 6 foot, installed on both sides of the northbound roadway, will advise that the traffic signal is intended to provide gaps in traffic in order to improve the flow at the circle less than a quarter of a mile ahead.

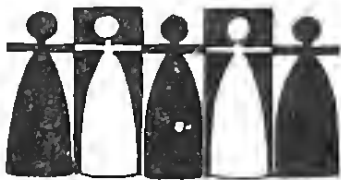

The signal will operate on a 90 second timing cycle with 32 seconds red. During the period when traffic is stopped, traffic at the circle is expected to diminish enough to allow South Broad Street motorists to pass through the circle toward Yardville.

The transportation department's plan to implement this type of remote control signalization was based on a favorable forecast of success by a computer simulation of the problem. The computer indicated this method would minimize the traffic jams that occur at the circle during rush hours.

He also said that while initially there may be some experimentation in the operational cycle of the signal during the day, the signal will remain on continuous green between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. Traffic engineers will monitor the signal daily to determine its effect on traffic flow, especially during the peak rush hours when

Group Re-forms. School board elections are three months away but Princetonians are already beginning to talk about candidates.

The Committee for Princeton Schools announced this week that it is starting up again in order to find and support candidates for the three upcoming positions on the nine-man school board.

The Committee is the group that supported the Rev. C. George Fitzgerald and Mrs. Hannah Fox, who were elected in last spring's contest. They also supported T.C. Allen, who was defeated.

In a re-organization statement, the Committee said this week that it "is committed to the continuing development of excellence in all phases of our educational system. This requires the orderly evolution of teaching techniques to achieve the most effective methods possible. It also means stimulation of our students to acquire individual motivation to benefit from their educational opportunities."

Achieving these goals "demands stable and far-sighted leadership from the board of education and the school administration," the Committee stated. "We believe that our schools have been progressing toward these goals and it intends to provide support for candidates who share these basic attitudes."

"A primary aim is to maintain the spirit of continuity and stability in the difficult task of improving our schools. The Committee urges the administration to continue to explore and evaluate a variety of educational programs which may prove beneficial to our children."

Those interested in working with the group are invited to

YOUTH FINED $25

For Pushing Manager. In Borough court last week, Frederick Skipworth, 20, Hollow Road Skillman, was fined $25 for pushing the manager of Buxton's, 84 Nassau Street, in the chest when he was asked to leave.

The manager, Lester E. Wolfgang Jr., was the complainant. Skipworth, who pleaded guilty, was charged with assault.

Joseph J. Ruckner, 51, of Trenton, appeared to answer seven separate charges, each charging him with possession of a stolen money order. His papers were sent to the Mercer County Prosecutor's office for action by a grand jury. The money orders were stolen in Trenton.

Three were sent to the grand jury for alleged possession of heroin: George McGowan, 25, 246 John Street; Richard M. Novatkoski, 20, Clarksville Road, West Windsor; and John H. Wells, 18, 448 Walnut Lane. In addition, Wells was charged with carrying a concealed weapon — a 4-inch knife — and Novatkoski with possession of stolen property.

Two more, each with three charges, were sent to a grand jury for action.

Ronald E. Rhodes, 19, 229½ John Street, was charged with breaking and entering, larceny and trespassing in connection with a theft at Dial Lodge over the Halloween weekend. Charles Rosaschi, a student lodger at Dial, was the complainant.

James Attenborough, 19, 779 Princeton-Kingston Road, was charged with possession of a stolen mini bike, buying alcohol for minors, and as a minor in possession of alcohol.

POCKETBOOKS STOLEN

And One Purse Snatched. Borough police report the theft last week of two women's pocketbooks and a purse-snatching.

Miss Elaine Pfeiffer, Princeton Lane, Route 1, lost $50 when her brown suede pocketbook was taken about 4:30 Saturday afternoon from her office in Pyne Hall, Princeton University campus. She told police that it had been hanging on a chair at her desk.

Mrs. Ronnie Kurchner of Hightstown reported the theft of her rush-colored purse between 6:10 and 6:15 p.m. Thursday from the Greene Hall library on the university campus. She lost two rings valued at $80 and $1 in cash.

A visitor to Princeton, Miss Florence Taylor of Lancaster, Pa., had her purse snatched about 10 Friday evening at the intersection of Witherspoon and Maclean Streets, while she was in the company of two other women.

She told police that two young boys came up behind her, grabbed her purse containing $7 and ran off.

VICTIM LOSES $40

In Second Purse Snatching. The Borough's second purse snatching within a week occurred Tuesday evening near Princeton Hospital.

The victim, Mrs. Lenora Medvin, 51, of Leavitt Lane, told police that she was entering her car on Franklin Avenue near Witherspoon when two youths grabbed her tan leather pocketbook, ran up Witherspoon and down Leigh Avenue. Her pocketbook contained $40 and the usual personal papers.

She described them as black, both tall and slender, wearing light clothing.

Three patrol cars had rushed to the scene after a resident on Witherspoon Street called at 8:38 reporting a woman screaming for help on Franklin Avenue opposite Princeton Hospital. Police searched the area without success.

Two Shopliftings. Two Borough stores were the victims of shoplifters last week.

The manager of Marsh's drug store, 30 Nassau, told police that two men walked in about 5:40 Monday and left with two electric shavers valued at $50. They got in a car and drove off, he said. Sgt. Ralph Procaccino is investigating.

A teenage girl, about 18, wearing blue jeans and carrying a purple hand bag, shoplifted a pair of brown pants Saturday from the Tree House at the rear of Bellows, 210 Nassau Street. A clerk said the pants were valued at $18.

$300 Guitar Stolen. A 12-string guitar and carrying case valued at $300 was stolen from a second floor storeroom at the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road. The owner is Lewis Pollack, 173A Ewing Street. Ptl. David Wilbur, who investigated, reported that there were no signs of forced entry.

James Shriver of the Great Road had his 1966 VW stolen last month while it was parked in the Princeton Shopping Center. He told police that he had locked it prior to taking a bus to New York City.

A stereo tape deck and 12 tapes valued at $107 and a $35 pair of binoculars were stolen during the weekend from a car parked on University Place near the railway station. Owner Bruce Douglass of Pyne Hall, campus, told police that a front vent window had been forced open.

Apartments Entered. Borough police received a report Thursday of entries into two apartments.

Arup Sen, 117 Bayard Lane, told police his apartment was entered between 1:30 and 4:20 through an unlocked window on the south side. He lost a stereo cassette recorder valued at $150 and two cameras with a combined value of $295.

Someone entered a window to get inside and ransack the apartment of Mrs. Catharine Cox, 48 Stanworth Lane, who was out of town at the time. Stolen, police said, were two bottles of bourbon and a carton of cigarettes. Ptl. Ronald Holliday investigated.

'HIT' WITH 6 SUMMONSES

After Hitting Car, Charles E. Banks, 20, of New Brunswick refused medical attention for a small cut and confusion of the chin he received after he struck a car Saturday morning on Nassau Street near Cedar Lane.

What probably hurt a lot more were the six summonses he received from Sgt. Theodore Lewis: failure to keep right, unsafe brakes, unregistered vehicle, unlicensed driver, no registration in possession and display of false license plates.

Mr. Banks told police: "I

TOWARD CLEANER AIR: In recognition of the efforts of the League of Women Voters in behalf of air pollution abatement, representatives of the League were invited to the signing by Governor William T. Cahill of a proclamation of "Cleaner Air Week." Shown from the left with the Governor are Mrs. Grace Singer of West Windsor Township; Mrs. Joyce Schmidt of Montgomery Township and Mrs. Gloria Gary, First Vice-President of the State League.

had my head out the window and I was trying to throw up. The next thing I knew I was headed for this guy. I tried to put on the brakes but there were none."

His car jumped the curb and continued on for some 75 feet before striking a car operated by Frank A. Rossi, 51, 28 Pierston Avenue. Mr. Rossi was waiting to exit from a drive at 410 Nassau.

Prank Results in Injury. A prank resulted in injury Thursday to a 16-year-old Hightstown youth.

Timothy Mackler of Village Road East told police that he decided to jump on the fender of a moving car in the Princeton Shopping Center driven by Elliot J. Bollentin, 17, of 30 Baker Court.

Mackler told Township Ptl. Robert Nielsen that he lost his balance and fell off. There were no charges.

THREE ARE FINED

In Borough Court, Three Princeton residents were fined Monday in Borough traffic court by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Dominick Sferra, 17, 52 Erdman Avenue, was fined $15 for careless driving; Thomas N. Thompson, 17, 611 Lake Drive, was fined $15 for speeding, and Edward Sampson, 80, 102 Lafayette Road, was fined $12 for failing to yield the right of way at an intersection.

In Township court last week, Gretel A. Kreiser, 27, 15 Mason Drive, paid $15 for disregarding a stop sign. She pleaded guilty.

Vagn V. Worm, 36, 47 Lower Harrison, paid the same amount for careless driving.

YOUTH ISSUED SUMMONS

For Marijuana Use, Thomas Goodwyn, 19, 28 Clay Street, was arrested at 8:30 Friday evening by Borough detectives Timothy Huizing and Thomas Michaud who charged him with use of marijuana.

Goodwyn was issued a complaint summons and released in his own recognizance, pending a hearing in Borough court scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

The officers observed the youth allegedly using the drug in the Trinity Church parking lot.

TWO APPEARANCES SET

By Members of "Camden 28." Three members of the "Camden 28," the group under indictment on a series of charges, including the alleged destruction of draft records, in the South New Jersey city, will appear twice at Princeton University Thursday in programs sponsored by the University Chapel.

During a "Peace Witness" in the Chapel at 4:30 p.m. they will discuss the moral and theological factors involved in their movement and the Camden action in particular, according to the Rev. Charles P. Henderson, Assistant Dean of the University Chapel.

At 7:30 p.m. they will be in Murray - Dodge Hall for an informal discussion of their views on "the war, the peace movement, and the future."

Representing the "Camden 28" will be the Rev. Milo M. Billman, of Camden, a Lutheran minister; the Rev. Peter Ford, S. J., who is also a member of the East Coast Conspiracy to Save Lives and the Hershburg Defense Committee (the Berrigan Defense); and Terry E. Buckalew.

The public is invited to the programs.

MEETING SCHEDULED

By Recreation Board. To get its budget requests for 1972 in on time, the Princeton Recreation Board will meet a week earlier than usual this month.

The board was scheduled to meet this Wednesday evening at 8:15 in the temporary classroom building behind Princeton High School. The board planned to discuss the budget in executive session.

In public session, the board

Trenton Freeway Scheduled to Join Route 1

New Jersey's first urban expressway, the Trenton Freeway, will reach its final phase of construction with the acceptance of bids by the Department of Transportation next Thursday. The 2.3-mile project involves the construction of the last stretch of the freeway between Whitehead Road and U.S. Route 1 in the vicinity of Carnegie Road, Lawrence Township, and the widening of Route 1 northbound to Franklin Corner Road.

More than 18 years have elapsed since Alfred E. Driscoll, then Governor, officially opened the first completed section of the freeway between the Delaware River toll bridge approaches in vicinity of Conovers Alley and Strawberry Street in Trenton. In that year, 1953, work started on a two-year contract to extend the freeway 0.8 miles to Whitehead Road, still its temporary terminus.

Work under this latest contract provides for grading, mainline paving and eight structures. New bridges will carry the freeway over Whitehead Road, the Delaware-Raritan Canal and Pennsylvania Railroad (Enterprise Branch), and relocated U.S. Route 1 northbound. When completed, the 5.6-mile-long Trenton Freeway will provide motorists with a dualized four-lane expressway, with the northbound and southbound roadways separated by a concrete center barrier. The road will also have 12-foot outer and 3-foot inner shoulders for each direction of travel.

The cost of this final freeway project, tentatively scheduled to be completed in June of 1973, will be financed with 1968 State Transportation Bond Issue Funds. All bids will be reviewed before a contract is awarded.

FAULK TO LECTURE

In Adult School Series. Richard A. Falk, Professor of International Law and Practice at Princeton University will speak on "Technology and World Order," in the series dealing with "The Impact of Technology on Society."

Professor Falk internationally known figure on the subjects of disarmament and protection of our environment and most recently involved with the printing of the Pentagon Papers, will bring a most immediate and worldwide view of the problems faced by this country. A large attendance is expected and there are individual admissions at the door, Room No. 135.

"The Nature of the Cities" guest speaker at the 9 p.m. lecture series will be Felix P. Raymond, Instructor department of Geography, Livingston College, Rutgers University. Mr. Raymond's topic will be "Port of Spain: A Reflection of Change in the Caribbean."

DIAL LODGE TARGET

Of Vandalism. Since Halloween, Dial Lodge on Prospect Avenue has been the scene of acts of vandalism.

"It seems as if every night something has been going on there," observed Chief Peter J. McCrohan. Ralph Zagrable, president of the club, told the Chief that he had nine radio arials on his desk that had been broken off cars parked behind the club.

In addition, the air has been let out of about 10 cars and the gas tank of one filled with water. Club members have also received threatening phone calls.

A week ago, police arrested two youths at the club and charged them with trespassing and larceny when they allegedly tried to steal trophies belonging to the club. Two club members signed complaint summonses against them.

Chief McCrohan refused to comment on whether police believe there is any tie-in between the arrests and vandalism.

HEARING WEDNESDAY

For Somerville Man. A 21-year old Somerville man will appear in Borough court Wednesday to answer drug and delinquency charges in connection with his arrest here last week.

George T. Delaney was arrested on University Place, after Sgt. Theodore Lewis and Ptl. Victor Pasanella observed him driving in an erratic manner. Under the influence of a drug believed to be LSD, he was taken by police to Princeton Hospital.

The next day, he was brought back to police headquarters and charged with possession of drugs other than narcotics and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was accompanied by a young girl, police said, at the time of his arrest.

He was later released in $500 bail in a preliminary hearing before Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr., pending his hearing here this week.

BLACK AFFAIRS TOPIC

Of Program on Friday. A Black Affairs Council program will be hosted by the Unitarian Church Friday at 8 p.m. in the church lounge.

Speakers will be Chuck Stone and Lou Gotthard, exploring the direction and significance of the Black Affairs Council (BAC). A movie called "BAC — To The People" will also be shown and the public is invited, admission free.

Mr. Stone, who has been active in the Black Power movement, is Director of Minority Affairs at Educational Testing Service and was formerly Executive Secretary to Congressman Adam Clayton Powell. He is the author of several books, including "King Strut," a novel based on the career of Mr. Powell. Before coming to ETS, he was a regular on the Today Show on television.

Mr. Gotthard, also a Black Power organizer, is Program Director for the Black Affairs Council and a member of the executive committee of the International Congress of African People. He has served as a consultant in community organization to such diverse groups as the Urban Training Center in Chicago, Shaw University in North Carolina, National Committee of Black Churchmen, and Urban America.

The Black Affairs Council is a nonprofit program and funding agency whose programs are divided into three components: Community Organization, Economic Development and Political Education. BAC is designed to support and fund those programs within the black community which lead to its empowerment, unification and self-determination.

LEGISLATURE IS TOPIC

Of Women Voter Meetings. The newly-elected New Jersey Legislature and some of its critical problems will be the subject of discussion at Princeton Area League of Women Voters November units. The league has been lobbying for reform of the Legislature for several years, and applauded the Legislature's recent action which established its own commission on reform to report in December.

We are parents, grandparents, and persons concerned about youth. We urge our neighbors to support Flight Two with your ideas, money and endorsement. They excelled in initiating and taking responsibility for a variety of events and services this summer and fall. This is how youth learn about their community, mature together and enjoy themselves.

Princeton needs for their enthusiasm and hard work to continue. They are not a United Fund agency. Please respond when teams of young people call and ask to meet with your family. Please speak up for youth at your church, service group, business or agency.

PROGRAM SCHEDULED

By Pennington Library. Dr. Henry W. Ahrens, professor of art at Trenton State College, will give a brief history of puppetry and show some of the varieties of puppets at a free program sponsored by the Pennington Public Library.

To demonstrate the capabilities of many puppets, Prof. Ahrens will use puppets from his collection to perform in skits, including "Punch and Judy," and many other famous tales. The show is set for 8 p.m., Friday, in the Hopewell Valley Regional High School auditorium.

TV PROGRAM SCHEDULED

On Recording For The Blind. Recording for the Blind, a Princeton organization, will be the subject for study on "Lifestyle '71" next Monday at 8 p.m. and Thursday, November 8, at 7 p.m. on Channel 52, the state's public broadcasting authority.

Recording for the Blind records textbooks for blind college, vocational and adult education students. The service is free to visually or physically handicapped persons.

SATURDAY PROGRAM SET

In Arts and Crafts. The winter Arts and Craft Program for children in grades three through eight will start Saturday at 9 in the John Witherspoon School art room. Miss Joyce Sinkler, a teacher in John Witherspoon, will be in charge, assisted by Miss Christine Micknich.

The program will run on consecutive Saturdays through March from 9 to 12 noon, excluding November 29, December 1 and 2.

Recycling Brings Out 1,000 Families

The Recycling Collection last Saturday went very smoothly, and was a great success. The weather was cooperative, and nearly 1,000 families participated. They brought with them 21½ tons of paper, 15 tons of glass, 4,400 lbs. of tin and bimetal, and 510 lbs. of aluminum. The next collection will be on Saturday, December 4, from 9-12.

The First Presbyterian Church is exhibiting a series of cartoons on environmental subjects by Henry Martin, 100 Dodds Lane. Mr. Martin has done cartoons on a variety of subjects like pollution and the population explosion. His work has appeared in many magazines, including the New Yorker, Saturday Review, the New York Times, Ladies Home Journal, the Chicago Tribune, and the Saturday Evening Post. The exhibit will be open every weekday from 8:30 till 5 p.m. and Sundays through the end of this month.

News Of The THEATRES

"THE SEAGULL"
 This Friday, Chekhov's "The Seagull," first of four productions scheduled for the season by Princeton Community Players, will open this Friday at 8:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre of the Unitarian Church, off Route 206 at Cherry Hill Road.

It will play again this Saturday, and next Thursday, November 18; Friday, November 19 and Saturday, November 20.

Although the Players' press agent points out that Chekhov's plays depict the attrition of daily life and the waste of youthful energy and talent, the cast itself includes a recent Princeton alumnus who has done graduate work at the University of California and who is channeling youthful energy and talent in far from wasteful ways.

Dan Berkowitz, class of '70 at Princeton is currently a student of Stella Adler and Pearl Pearson at the Stella Adler Theatre Studio in New York. During his year of graduate work at Berkeley, he founded The New Stage and produced three plays, including two new scripts.

"NO PLACE...."

"...to be Somebody." The 1970 Pulitzer Prize drama, "No Place to be Somebody" will play McCarter twice next week as part of the theatre's Playgoers Series.

"No Place" will be presented next Thursday, November 18, and next Friday, November 19, both at 8:30 p.m.

The author, Charles Gordone, has been called by New York Times critic Walter Kerr "The most astonishing new American playwright since Edward Albee."

Mr. Gordone has set his play in Greenwich Village, using the Village as the locale for several stories about the characters who frequent Johnny's Bar. These characters include a man just out of jail, streetwalkers, a college liberal, a Mafia type — all looking for "a place to be somebody." Newsweek called the play, "A mixture of white heat and intellectual clarity."

IT'S MILDRED DUNNOCK

"A Place Without Doors." Mildred Dunnock, best known to theatre-goers for her portrayal of Willy Loman's wife in "Death of a Salesman" will appear in McCarter late this month in Marguerite Duras' "A Place Without Doors."

The play will be presented Friday and Saturday, November 26 and 27, and tickets are now on sale.

Mme. Duras is the French novelist and author who wrote "Hiroshima, Mon Amour." Her play, "A Place Without Doors", was premiered last season at New Haven's Long Wharf Theatre, and subsequently moved to off-Broadway, with Miss Dunnock as star.

For the Princeton engagement, Miss Dunnock will repeat the role she created, and will be joined by two other members of the New York cast, Alvin Epstein and Hiram Sherman.

DRAMA, AT PHS

Syngé, Saroyan. "Riders to the Sea" the Syngé drama, and Saroyan's "Hello, Out There" will be presented this Friday and Saturday by Princeton High School drama students.

Curtain-time is 8 p.m. both evenings. Adult admission is $1.25, student admission 75c. The plays will be given in the Band Room.

"Riders to the Sea" has been directed by student David Werden. In the student cast are Helena Snow as Nora; Jane Beard as Cathleen; Peter Lopatin as Bartley; Sarah Jane Lithgow in the part of Maura; John Hurlitzin as the Young Man and Rip Pellaton in the role of the Old Man. of the drama department at the high school has directed "Hello, Out There." In this play, Ward Wilson is the Young Man; Andrea Murphy the Young Girl; Rip Pellaton, the Husband; Karen Besser, the Wife; David Oakley, the Jailkeeper and Chris Love and Doug Barth, the Two Men.

Plays are part of the school's "On-Stage Series," in which the intimate style of theatre and student involvement are emphasized. Except for Mr. Mansier's direction of the Saroyan, all aspects of the productions have been handled by students.

PDS PLANS DRAMA

McAneny to Direct. "Dark of the Moon," by Howard Richardson and William Berney, will be the fall presentation of the Princeton Day School Drama Club. Three performances will be given in the school theatre, on November 19, 20 and 24, at 8:30 p.m.

Set in the Great Smokey Mountains, the play is an elaboration of "The Ballad of Barbara Allen," telling of the love of a witch boy for a human girl. With imaginative scenery and a cast of 25, the play is directed by Herbert McAneny. Tickets at $1.75 may be bought from students and at the door.

ROTARY PLANS FILM

Lowell Thomas Jr. to Narrate. Lowell Thomas Jr. will appear at the Princeton Playhouse on Tuesday to narrate his film "Follow the North Star."

The film sponsored by the Rotary Club of Princeton will be shown at 8 p.m. Tickets at $3.50 are available at the Playhouse box office.

Currently living in Alaska where he is a State Senator, Mr. Thomas, like his equally well known father before him, has spent most of his 48 years traveling the globe seeking out little known and isolated parts of the world.

He and his wife Tay, and their children have made their home in Alaska since 1960 — narrowly surviving the catastrophic earthquake of 1964 in which their house was destroyed.

YOUTH CENTER BENEFIT

"Music of Black Composers." A repeat performance of last year's successful musical evening, "Music of Black Composers" will be given at McCarter Theatre Wednesday, November 24 at 8:30 p.m. as a fund raising event for the Princeton Youth Center.

The three part concert will feature Charles Pettaway Jr., young classical pianist from Philadelphia; Frances Goding, dramatic soprano who sings frequently at events in the Princeton area and "The Black Souls Trio," a jazz group of university students.

The program will include compositions by Coleridge Taylor, Duke Ellington, Mar garet Bonds and Howard Swanson.

Herbert McAneny

Tickets, at $5.50, $4.50 and $3.50, are available at the McCarter box-office and at the Youth Center.

NEW PLAY READY

Sign up for Performances. "Dunder," a new play by Jim Newton, will be ready for performance in January by the Street Theatre, and organizations that would like to have "Dunder" performed — as a benefit, or for other purposes — should contact the Street Theatre.

CASSEROLES INTERNATIONAL is the at-home business venture of Mrs. Merry Knowlton, a Bryn Mawr graduate with honors in history and long-time explorer in culinary arts, who has, since February, offered the busy hostess a variety of buffet casseroles, fit for gourmet.

IT'S NEW
To Us

COOKING'S A PLEASURE

And A Business On The Side. Merry Knowlton of Canal Road began "Casseroles International" last winter. It is hard to resist her menus.

She comes impressively to the fore when you have a football weekend, a special anniversary, or a buffet supper or when you're at your wits' end.

Chicken Brazil, seafood cardinal, ham with green noodles (and Swiss cheese); paela, veal paprika, beef Strogonoff, Spanish beef stew (with green olives) shrimp Jambalaya (with ham and tomato sauce) or turkey with wild rice are on the casserole list right now.

"All of the recipes are my own — and I read cookbooks like nobody else!" Mrs.
Knowlton, says. As slim and as pretty a cook as you can imagine, she has traveled widely and added her touch to dishes she enjoyed in various parts of the world. "If you know what raw fish, pickled, should taste like, then you can try it at home!"

Her father and mother were natural cooks and she began fooling around in the kitchen when she was a teenager.

"Now I'm blessed with a husband who is an appreciative eater. I experiment with recipes for my family — but not for my business." Some weeks she will put in as much as 45 hours in the kitchen, although the average is 20 hours. She closes down in the summer, saying, firmly, "My family comes first."

Casseroles International provides the food in colorful Le Creuset casseroles, fully cooked and requiring only gentle heating. The menu includes rice, a mixed green salad and herb bread. Finnish salad bowls are provided.
All you need to do is polish the forks.

When you get Mrs. Knowlton talking about food, you find that you have hit a quality bug. "I don't use just olive oil, but the best olive oil I can find. I know the markets that have the best veal, the freshest fish — I try to do exactly the kind of buffet dinners I have done informally at home for years.
"You tell me how many people are coming, and whether they are 25 football players or 25 ladies on a diet. One of my customers is on a low cholesterol diet, so I eliminate butter. My servings are very generous, and the cost is on a per person basis.

"Everything is delivered fresh. Actually, everything I make really improves on sitting. I have culled out many

"And I have a guaranteed method of cooking rice, which I give to my clients, because I deliver the rice uncooked."

range from $3 to $4.50 per person. Prices are 15 percent gan in 1907, and now most of the other companies have joined in.

The Collector's Corner in Kingston, located in a gray clapboard house at 61 Main Street, specializes in these beautiful plates. The collection ranges from traditional blue-toned Christmas issues to full color. There are memorial plates for Mother's Day and for the Moon Landing, even some old Currier & Ives reproductions. Some plates are $13; some are $140.

Joseph H. Petrozzini and his son, J. Douglas, will show you the Wedgwood plates in black basalt, marking Mother's Day. The series began in 1969. That was the year that Mr. Petrozzini Sr. began collecting.

"I bought a Bing & Grondahl Mother's Day plate for $10. By the end of the year it was selling for $100. I started buying some of the others, investing for Douglas. And I've been operating a mail order business through the Antique Trader, the collectors' publication, ever since."

A number of his customers have asked to see the plates when they were traveling in this area, so Mr. Petrozzini opened a shop and lined the walls with plates.

He also has commemorative coins and Christmas tree ornaments from the Franklin Mint, a private mint near Philadelphia; the quaint Hummel figurines made by Goebel, and a collection of framed prints prized by collectors, such as drawings of mushrooms by Dowden, and a bird series by Ray Harm.

"There's an Andrew Wyeth limited edition plate coming out from Georg Jensen," Mr. Petrozzini remarks. "The eight-inch porcelain plate will reproduce Wyeth's painting of the Kuerner Farm in Chadds Ford, Pa. It will sell for $50. This is going to be a good issue. I wanted to double my order and found that I couldn't."

One wall is filled with the

Hummel Look-Alikes

The sixth annual search for a Hummel look-alike is on, sponsored by W. Goebel, manufacturer of the world-famous figurines. First prize is $1,000, plus ten runner-up prizes.

Entries should be black and white photographs of a child between the ages of two and ten; the child and post should resemble any one of the 239 Hummel figurines.

The figurines are adaptations of sketches of children by Berta Hummel, a nun in the Franciscan Convent of Siessen in Bavaria. The entry blanks are available at The Collector's Corner, 61 Main Street, Kingston. The deadline is November 30.

blue toned plates: Royal Copenhagen's "Victoria Spatii" (1969) among them. Mr. Petrozzini notes that the Apollo Moon Landing plate issued in 1969 by Royale-Blue Winter China Co. originally cost $39. "I'm buying them back for about $50 and selling for $69."

The Wedgwood blue series with white relief — Windsor Castle, is one — are framed for wall mounting, because there is no perforation in the back of the plate, which most of the plates have. The memorial plates honor mothers, fathers, Easter, other holidays, wildlife, famous composers and presidents of the United States.

"People collect for either the aesthetic value or investment value," Mr. Petrozzini comments. "An Italian firm, Veneto Flair, brought out an exquisite Madonna plate in honor of Mother's Day. It was a limited edition of 500 plates. The Madonna cost $45, but our last three are $200."

Also by Veneto is a very beautiful wildlife series, and a first Christmas, showing the three Magi.

From Anri, come carved wooden plates. We saw a tranquil scene in the Tyrol. In porcelain, there's a Van Gogh series of 4 plates with matching mugs.

"Name one of the fine china companies, and you'll find they put out a memorial plate," Mr. Petrozzini continues. He points out the Haviland series — which includes a unicorn taken from tapestry. The 1971 plate will be a hunting scene, also tapestry inspired.

Spode issued a plate with a gold partridge in a pear tree one Christmas; Lenox of course, has its beautiful Christmas plates. The annual editions of Boehm's birds are collected by some for their sheer beauty, by others because "well, I have a first edition. It was originally $30; now it's worth about $5."

The Collector's Corner is open Monday through Friday from 9:30 to 5; on Saturdays from 9:30 until 3.

poses — may make arrangements now.

Street Theatre isn't giving away the "Dundor" plot, but the cast includes a Princess (Louise Arnold); Handmaidens (Liz Hilst and Karen Besser); a Jester (Chris Negus); Handsome Young Prince (Rip Pellaton) a Page (Steven Kolmes — he plays the Horse also) and Prince Yerd (Robert Little) so it is possible to infer the general progress of events. Dundor will be Adrienne Brockway.

Amie Brockway is the director, assisted by Debbie Bellow. Kevin Colman is technical director and K.G. Hawthorne, stage manager.

The property manager (John Wible) and wardrobe mistress (Liz Hilst) both need technical assistants and anybody who would like to volunteer is invited to call Mrs. Brockway at McCarter Theatre (921-8588) or at the Brockway home (452-9145). Newcomers may also volunteer by coming to rehearsals, held each Sunday and Tuesday from 7 p.m. at Christ Congregational Church, Walnut Lane at Houghton.

New playwrights are invited to enter Street Theatre's original script contest. Plays, by non-professionals only, may be of any length but should be suitable for performance by a Street Theatre. The best will be given next summer and the playwright will receive a cash prize.

SCAGGS NEXT

In Folk/Rock Series. Boz Scaggs and the seven members of his jazz-rock band will be next at McCarter under the folk-rock sign. The San Francisco-based group will appear on Saturday, November 20 at 8 p.m.

A former guitarist with Steve Miller's Blues Band, Boz left to form his own group in 1969. His music, semi-country, semi-blues, laced with gospel, comes from trumpet, trombone, tenor sax, organ, piano, bass and drums, with Scaggs on lead guitar and vocals.

Sunday, Bloody Sunday (now playing) is a highly sophisticated film dealing with an unusual love triangle. Director John Schlesinger delves into offbeat relationships, as he did in "Midnight Cowboy."

Glenda Jackson and Peter Finch are at the opposite ends of the triangle with Murray Head, as lover to both, in the third corner. The film's most important sequence comes not at the end of the film, nor in Miss Jackson's or Finch's relationship to their common lover, but in their extraordinary confrontation, which proves not only their humanity but also their ability to come to awareness of the other's reality.

The film is objective, almost scientific.

GARDEN

Jennifer On My Mind (now playing). Tippy Walker is Jennifer, who likes to swim in Venice's Grand Canal, to walk on high railings, and to drop acid.

Michael Brandon is the gilded youth who takes her to see the sights ("I bet you've never been to a real ghetto") Jennifer overdoses and her young man tries to figure out what to do with the body.

The script is by Erich Segal ("Love Story") and is somewhat soapy.

W. WINDSOR SETS PLAN For Student Phase-Out from PHS. A new plan which would gradually withdraw all West Windsor-Plainsboro students from Princeton High School by 1975-76 has been approved by the district's regional board of education.

The original plan called for moving grades seven, eight and nine into the new secondary school currently under construction by September 1972. The revised procedure calls for putting seventh and eighth graders into the new school as soon as practicable, but leaving the ninth graders as freshmen at PHS for the full year.

At the start of the 1973-74 school year both freshman and sophomore students would attend the new school, leaving only the top two classes to finish high school in Princeton.

The last students from the district to graduate from Princeton High School would do so in June 1975, with all West Windsor-Plainsboro students attending the new school beginning that September.

It is expected that the plan will be submitted to Princeton school officials for approval before the end of this month. Superintendent John F. Hadden and board members stressed that although the plan revised the phase-out dates, it in no way represented a change in the contract date for the completion of the secondary school.

New Course Approved. In other action, the Board approved the introduction of a Community Affairs course in to the eighth grade curriculum at the Dutch Neck School. It will serve to broaden the scope of courses available to Dutch Neck students and serve as a nucleus for a program of electives to be offered in the new secondary school. The board also approved the initiation of a volunteer aide program for grades K through 4.

The plan for disposal of the Coward House was also amended by the Board. Dr. Hadden read a report from the Mercer County Heritage Commission stating that the original portion of the structure was constructed in the 1740's and was possibly one of the earliest homes built in the Township. After determining that the structure would not interfere with the immediate construction plans, the Board approved delaying final action on the building.

The new plan calls for the removal of the building from the site by the date of the Board's April meeting. This extension of time will allow interested groups to review various alternates which they might consider or develop for presentation to the Board. If the Board does not receive any plans by the time of its March meeting it will proceed with its original plans for demolition.

The Board also received a report from Mr. Richard Snedeker, Chairman of the Regionalization Committee. The report contained additional background data concerning the Washington and Cranbury School Districts which have expressed an interest in regionalizing with the West

Windsor-Plainsboro Regional School District.

President Robert Duncan indicated that a decision regarding possible action relative to considering regionalizing with either or both of these districts will be reached at the November board meeting.

PAUL ROCHE TO READ
From His Recent Poems. Paul Roche, British poet and translator, will read from his new work at 8:30 p.m. next Wednesday, November 17, in the auditorium of the Woodrow Wilson School. The University Chapel, the Creative Writing Program and the Department of English at Princeton are co-sponsors.

Mr. Roche's most recent volumes are "Vessel of Dishonor," "All Things Considered," and "To Tell the Truth." He has been particularly acclaimed for his translation from Aeschylus and Sophocles.

MANY ITEMS DONATED

For Silent Auction. Mrs. William T. Cahill, Mrs. Richard Hughes, and Mrs. Robert Meyer have joined Mrs. Richard Nixon in donating personal items for the silent auction, a feature of the dessert-card party benefit sponsored by The Woman's Club of Princeton for the New Jersey Train ing School for Boys, being held at 8 p.m. next Friday, November 19, in the Campus Center Auditorium at Princeton Seminary. David Seltzer, who wrote the script for "The Hell in the Heart of Christmas" directed the film.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEMBERS: Members of the Ways and Means Committee of the Woman's Club of Princeton, which will hold its dessert-card party this Thursday are (from left standing): Mrs. Gertrude H. Woodland, Mrs. Bonsall Strong, Mrs. William D. Houghton, Mrs. William W. Bothwell, Mrs. David Mendelson. (Seated) Mrs. Clayton H. Jacobus and Mrs. Norman H. Jackson.

A panel will comment on the movie. Members are Dr. Virginia Sheer, a psychiatrist especially concerned with inter-family relations; Dr. Edward Wright, a Syosett, L. I., obstetrician interested in family-centered maternity care, and Sean Reilly, a Lamaze parent.

A guest appearance will be made by Mrs. Elizabeth Bing, a founder of The American Society for Psychoprophylaxis in Obstetrics (ASPO), and author of "Six Practical Lessons for an Easier Childbirth."

Donations are $1. ASPO members admitted free. A reception follows the film.

"THE STORY OF ERIC"

Lamaze Film Is Scheduled. A film on a family-centered Lamaze method birth, "The Story of Eric," will be shown

FORD ANNOUNCES GRANT

For Conservation. Princeton Township's Conservation Commission could share in the $385,000 Ford Foundation grant that will help municipal conservation commissions in New Jersey, New York and New England.

The grant was announced last week at a dinner meeting of the Association of New Jersey Conservation Commissions held at the Institute for Advanced Study.

A maximum of 150 communities in the region is eligible for the funds. Each commission may receive up to $5,000. Any grant over $750 will have to be matched by municipalities on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

The Township's Commission is scheduled to meet this Wednesday for its monthly executive planning session, and may discuss the advantages of the Foundation proposals at that time, according to Mrs. S. B. Penick, Commission member.

Grants cannot be used for land purchase, under the Foundation's terms. Priority will be given to waste management, land use and pollution control.

The Foundation might award grants for preparing maps, making aerial photographs, hiring lawyers to prepare ordinances or make title searches, or retain surveyors and planners who would prepare open-space plans.

Mrs. Penick pointed out that the Township is far ahead of most communities where open space is concerned, and has already done most of the things that could be financed under a Ford grant. She suggested that the money might be used in the Commission's forthcoming Resource Survey of the community, planned to complement the findings of the Sternlieb housing report.

Divisiveness Deplored.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 Marie Coan and I have worked for years together in the Democratic Party in Princeton and Mercer County, and it is with deep regret that I take issue with her. Mrs. Coan claimed during the recent campaign that she was running to provide representation for citizens whose interests were not represented by the major party candidates. Mrs. Coan stated after the election, in which she received fewer than 500 votes, that she had accomplished her objective in running.

Mrs. Coan served the interests of her constituency badly. She helped to defeat Democratic candidates for Council and Mayor who would have represented her constituency far better than Republicans will. Whatever her motives, the effect of Mrs. Coan's candidacy was to confuse Princeton voters and muddy the real issues in the campaign.

Mrs. Coan has also seriously hurt the local Democratic Party by questioning its ability to represent the diverse segments of this community. In the best traditions of the Democratic Party, we had a balanced ticket. We stood up for the interests of the working people in this town.

I was pleased to run with John Strange, Alice Male and Ned Schneider. I hope to continue to work with them and other Democrats to undo the damage Mrs. Coan has done to the party and to see that it continues to represent the many different interests in Princeton.

Right to Appeal Upheld.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 In all the comment regarding the decisions taken in the Wesley Hines case one important point has been obscured — one that has bearing on the supposed failure of the Board and Dr. McPherson to back up the coaching staff and Dr. Wertheimer.

It must be understood that both the Board and the Superintendent were rendering a judicial decision and not an administrative one. Under law, the right of the student to appeal has always been available; it has not, at least in athletic cases, been used before. Because appeal has not been made before does not mean, as some seem to indicate, that it should not have been made now.

The right of appeal, in the school system and the law courts of our society, is a safeguard for the rights of the individual. Hines availed himself of his right to appeal to higher authority when he laid his case before the Superintendent; the coaches used the same right when they appealed to the Board.

The Board deliberated and arrived at a decision. To castigate the members of the Board, to question their impartiality is to question the integrity of every member of the Board.

To demand, as some have done, that the Superintendent or the Board support the staff and administrators without question and without fail is to ask them to set aside the judicial role they undertake in such cases.

This football drama does not have one villain or one good guy. The Superintendent and Board have attempted, as did the Principal and coaches before them, to reach a just decision. There is the final decision, and it is up to us now to acknowledge that this decision, whether or not we agree with it, was arrived at through the judicial processes which are essential to a just and orderly society.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It seems regrettable indeed that Princeton University did not see fit to share with McCarter Theatre the valiant efforts and expenses involved in arranging for the appearance here on October 31 of Andrei Vosnesenski, the noted Soviet poet, who is being widely acclaimed during his current tour of the U.S.

To those of us for whom a $3 ticket was not a matter of concern, it was most convenient to be certain of a reserved seat. But this restricted audience was not the only one entitled to the exhilarating experience that Mr. Vosnesenski provided.

The bare facts are clear: McCarter was about 30 percent full, the absence of students was conspicuous. Mr. Vosnesenski presented the same program the following night at Rutgers University, free to students and general public alike and was received by a hall filled with interested students and listeners. The Soviet poet, E. Yevtuchenko, spoke at Alexander Hall several years ago to a packed and cheering audience.

We are well aware of course that McCarter is a larger hall to fill, and even more aware of the increased fiscal difficulties.

culies facing all universities these days. But perhaps it is time for Princeton University to reexamine its list of priorities.

What more appropriate forum than that of a University is there for a poet of such stature as Mr. Vosnesenski and for the contribution he had to offer? It might well be that the students here were given less access to Mr. Vosnesenski than those of any other campus he plans to visit.

It seems a great shame, for they would surely have appreciated the beauty of the poetry offered, the eloquence with which it was delivered, the fine sense of humor Mr. Vosnesenski's English remarks portrayed, as well as the sensitive English readings of Prof. Theodore Weiss. Mr. Vosnesenski, too, would have enjoyed the students.

Is 66' a Legal Width?

To the Editor of Town Topics: The legal width of Nassau Street, formerly the King's Road, is currently a matter of dispute. That 66 feet was the legally accepted width in Colonial times is demonstrated by old land-deeds which have been "in the family" for five generations.

By the first of these deeds, dated 17 September 1734, Nathaniel Fitzrandolph and his wife, Rebecca, transferred to John Snowdon, tanner, a 2 1/2-acre tract on the south side of present-day Nassau Street, "In the Town of Windsor in the County of Middlesex and province of East-New-Jersey." The boundary line begins "at a Stake for a Corner in the Middle of the Kings Road that parts the Countys of Somerset and Middlesex...Running thence South South-East half a Chain to a Stone Standing by the sd. Road Side Marked: I S;" thence counter-clockwise around the tract "to a Stone Standing by sd. Road Side Marked: I S; Thence the same Course half a Chain to a Stake for a Corner in the Middle of sd. Road" and down the middle of the road to the starting point.

John Snowdon willed this tract to his sons, Jedediah and Isaac, half to each; but Jedediah sold his half to Isaac by a parchment indenture dated 15 November 1763. Except that Windsor is "now called Prince Town," the lot's boundaries are stated in the same terms as before.

By a deed dated 18 April 1801, Isaac and Mary Snowdon sold the same lot to John Leosborough. It is now described as "Situate Lying and being in Princeton in the Township of Windsor, County of Middlesex State of New Jersey," and the first corner stake is "in the Middle of the Road, which is the main Street in Princeton." Otherwise the landmarks are unchanged.

How do these quaint old indentures define the width of Letters to TOWN TOPICS "Mailbox" should be typed, double-spaced, signed and received for publication no later than Monday. No letter will be printed without a valid signature and address. Letters longer than 500 words may be edited or omitted entirely, at the discretion of the editor. Letters on subjects not specifically related to the Princeton area may also be rejected.

Nassau Street as 66 feet? Let's summarize the evidence:

1. John Snowdon's northern property line ran down the center of the King's Road (Nassau Street).

2. The two corner stones bearing his initials "IS" marked the boundary between the occupied part of his property and the right-of-way, i.e. the southern limit of Nassau Street.

3. The distance from either "I S" stone to the center of the road was 1-2 chain, therefore the King's Road was one chain wide. One chain equals 66 feet.

4. The 1734 deed was notarized in 1754 by Thomas Leonard, who was "one of his Majesties Council for three Province of New Jersey" as well as the owner of the land directly adjoining Snowdon's lot across the center line of Nassau Street. If the deed had contained any error of fact or law, Squire Leonard would certainly have known it!

Thus the legal width of Nassau Street was 66 feet in the reigns of George II (1734-1754) and George III (1763) and in the presidency of Thomas Jefferson (1801). Why not today as well?

Conservationists Congratulated

To the Editor of Town Topics: At the November 6th recycling in Princeton I went for the first time, having amassed a large collection of aluminum containers. It is very smoothly conducted, and we all should be moved to thankfulness to the volunteers who work so hard and are spurred by a truly noble motivation.

"Waste not, want not" said a man named Rowland Howard in 1876. He also said, "You never miss the water till the well runs dry."

I feel certain that more and more people will cooperate in recycling as time goes by. It can be a source of sound future business eventually. I remember hearing in the past how many a respectable family fortune was started by an astute junk collector, who I suppose began by turning metal in for conversion.

Heaven forbid that we should want any more Great Family Fortunes, but the fact that recycling can prove a justly profitable pursuit would necessarily give impetus to a project that, in all its implications, is considered today to be as world-saving as a war of "defense" was thought to be yesterday.

Candidates Look Ahead.

To the Editor of Town Topics: We want to express our appreciation to the many voters in West Windsor for supporting the candidates of their choice. Both parties waged a strong campaign to create a greater community interest in their government. In this endeavor, the candidates both Republican and Democrat succeeded.

We look forward now to a working relationship with all residents to provide the quality of governmental direction of which we can all be proud. To this purpose we dedicate ourselves.

BANK JOINS OTHERS

1st National Bank with UJB: 1st National Bank of Princeton's membership in United Jersey Banks, a holding company, adds financial and service depth to First National without affecting its control over administering them. That's the estimate of First National's President, John F. Hoff, in describing the impact of the bank's joining UJB last week.

First National's name and personnel will continue without change, Mr. Hoff explained, as will the board of directors and management team. What will change is First National's resources and services, which now will be sharing in a statewide network of banking resources.

First National now shares in a computer service managed by UJB. This broadens First National's capabilities for serving personal and industrial accounts. Also, First National, through UJB, now has improved capacity in the areas of money management and municipal and school bonds.

Also, First National's membership in UJB has hiked the bank's legal lending capacity from $500,000 to $5.5 million to any one borrower. Decisions on individual dealings will still be made locally, Mr. Hoff emphasized.

First National's board chairman, Ralph H. Mather, board member Henry S. Patterson and Mr. Hoff are members of the 20-member UJB board of directors.

OFFER 6 3/4% MORTGAGES

For Homes $28,000 or Less, will offer residential mortgages to qualified applicants at an annual percentage rate of 6 3/4%. The bank is one of 24 financial institutions which will participate in a program developed by the New Jersey Mortgage Finance Agency.

The special interest rate, available only to persons purchasing homes priced at $28,000 or less, is being offered on a first-come, first-served basis.

Anyone interested in applying for a 6 3/4% mortgage should contact the New Jersey National Bank Mortgage Department as soon as possible. All funds must be committed within the next six months and the bank expects the limited mortgage money to go quickly.

VICE PRESIDENT NAMED

At Princeton Bank and Trust, Alfred N. Edwards of Princeton has been named as a vice-president and auditor of Princeton Bank and Trust Co.

Mr. Edwards was previously associated with Guaranty Trust Company and Brooklyn Trust Company, where he served in a similar capacity. He later joined John I. Cole Son and Co., bank auditors as a partner, then became sole owner.

Before moving to Princeton, Mr. Edwards made his home in Garden City, N.Y., with his wife and five daughters. Currently staying at the Nassau Inn, he is purchasing a home here.

Promotion Announced. Harry H. Edel Jr., Federal City Rd. has been promoted to vice-president and commercial loan officer at the bank. He lives at Federal City Road, Pennington.

Mr. Edel served as an Assistant Treasurer at the Union Trust Company in Newark, before joining the Princeton Bank staff in January as an assistant vice-president. He is on the Board of Governors of the Bank Credit Associates of New York. In addition, he is a member of the N.J. Association of Credit Executives and the Bank Credit Division of this organization. As a member of the Newark Jaycees, Mr. Edel headed fund raising and acted as a group chairman of the United Community Fund.

IT'S OFFICIAL: The First National Bank is now a member of United Jersey Banks, a holding company, John F. Hoff III, President and Director of the bank and a Director of United Jersey, and Kenneth H. Fisher, President and Director of United Jersey and Vice-Chairman of the Board of Peoples Trust Company of New Jersey, Hackensack, examine the certificate issued this week by the Comptroller of the Currency.

Mr. Edel is married to the former Cynthia Lee Pierson of Hopewell. He was graduated from Lawrence College in Appleton, Wisconsin, and has served with the United States Air Force in Vietnam.

At Study Center. No matter how attractive the invitation that comes for Mrs. Virginia Graham for Tuesday or Thursday afternoon she has a prior commitment. That is when she spends an hour with Mrs. Dulcie Ragoonath to teach her how to read and write, in the adult education program of the Princeton Study Center.

The Public Library provides the space, a small cheerful room with study table and blackboard and even a classroom clock. In the six months they have worked together they have become good friends equally proud of the progress Mrs. Ragoonath has made.

"She picks words out of the newspaper now, and she is so anxious to know how to write. If only I had more knowledge of how to teach writing to an adult!" Mrs. Graham said, recently while she waited for her pupil.

Mrs. Ragoonath came to Princeton with her husband six years ago from her native country, Trinidad, leaving behind two children. Since then two more have been born and taken to Trinidad to be cared for.

She has missed the children terribly, but until now has worked full time and could not have the children with her. Last Sunday she boarded the plane for the 3,000 mile trip, as she has each year for her one-week visit to Trinidad, but this time with a difference.

She will bring the children back with her to live in Princeton. The happiness she radiated at the prospect was marred only when she thought of her downtown apartment much too small for a six-member family. She is trying hard to find larger living quarters. They need not be right in town since the family now has a car.

Mrs. Graham came into the Princeton Study Center program about a year ago after seeing it listed in the volunteer booklet put out by Princeton Council of Community Services. She lived in Geneva, Switzerland, for 14 years before coming to live in Princeton 4 years ago, and her own successful struggle to master the language of the place she lived gives her empathy for those with language problems.

The Princeton Study Center provides the kind of volunteer work she hoped to find, a few hours each week of straight service, no socializing. She is the kind of volunteer the Princeton Study Center hopes to find, conscientious and resourceful.

When she found one hour a week was not enough, she decided to make it two. When she went on vacation last summer, she found another tutor, Mrs. Maurice Lee, who took over for her. She looks for new ways of presenting the material to be more effective.

At present there are 15 adults who are being tutored by volunteers in the Study Center adult program not only in basic literacy but also in high school equivalency and in language for non-English-speaking residents. Anyone who wants to be tutored or who wishes to volunteer as a tutor, should call Mrs. Alvin E. Gershen, 921-6767.

NEW PROGRAM SET

By Red Cross. This fall the Red Cross Youth program of the Princeton Chapter has adopted a new approach to its service, sending students from all the schools in this area out in their communities to help. A new Red Cross Youth Advisory Board has been formed in order to advise and assist these young people. The following members, youth as well as adult, have agreed to help:

Mrs. William Abrams, chairman, Miss Florence Burke, vice-principal of Princeton High School; William Cashman, special education teacher er in Princeton Public Schools; Mrs. Jessie Kirkland, special education teacher in the Hightstown School system; Ed McKoon, Montgomery High School principal; Frederick Porter, Township Police Chief; Sister Clare Pratt, head of the Upper School at Stuart Country Day; Terry Rosenfeld, program director for special education in Lawrence Township Schools.

Also, Miss Mary Wilcox, teacher in Princeton Regional Schools; Barbara Bates, Montgomery High School; Pari Slave, Hightstown High School; Debbie Dobkowski, Princeton Day School; Lisa Fishbeck, Stuart Country Day School; Nancy Jacobs, Princeton High School; Barbara Sobkowiak, Hightstown Schools; Randy Sutton, Princeton High School; and Amy White, Hightstown Schools.

Since the schools opened this fall, the youth program has grown rapidly. Young people are now working as volunteers in the following services: blood services, service to military families, hospital volunteers, safety services, motor service, staff aides, production and disaster relief.

CAHILL IS POPULAR

With Voters, Poll Shows. Republican losses in the New Jersey State Legislature should not be attributed to lack of personal popularity of Gov. William Cahill, according to a recent Rutgers survey.

More than twice as many New Jerseyans think Gov. Cahill is doing a good job than think the Legislature is doing a good job. Further results from the first New Jersey Poll, released this week by the Eagleton Institute of Politics at the State University, show that the Governor's positive ranking is even more striking when compared to the low marks accorded to the performance of the Legislature.

Almost half the respondents, 44 per cent, rated Gov. Cahill's performance as either "excellent" or "good." In contrast, only one in five rated the Legislature's performance this highly.

New Jersey citizens also seemed more willing to venture an opinion about the Governor than about the Legislature. Over one-quarter of the respondents, 26 per cent, gave no opinion on the performance of the Legislature while only 7 per cent failed to rate the Governor's performance.

Democrats Pleased Too. Although, as might be expected, Republicans were much more pleased with the Cahill record than were the Democrats, his relatively good showing held for most groups within the state.

And Democrats, Republicans and Independents alike were largely disenchanted with the past performance of the Legislature. Only one in five, regardless of political persuasion, considered the Legislature's performance good or excellent.

In fact, only 40 per cent of those queried were even aware that the Republicans controlled the past legislature and only one in nine could name their state senator. Two thirds of the respondents, however, correctly labelled Gov. Cahill as a Republican and a surprisingly high 90 per cent could identify him as the Governor of New Jersey.

According to Poll Director Stephen Salmore, the figures indicate that the Governor, the only state-wide elected official, is well known, highly regarded, and generally identified as a Republican. The past legislature was less well known, less highly regarded and was not clearly identified with the Republican Party.

State Lottery cited. When asked what actions of the Governor influenced their evaluation of him, those queried offered a wide range of responses. The single action most frequently cited was the state lottery, with 8 per cent mentioning it. Seven per cent each cited taxes and education and 5 per cent mentioned the agreement with the New York Giants to come to the Hackensack sports complex.

The lottery proved particularly attractive to Democrats with 16 per cent of those Democrats rating the Governor's performance as "good" or "excellent" volunteering this response.

These figures come from the first New Jersey Poll, based on a random sample of 1,208 New Jersey residents, 18-years and older, who were interviewed by telephone from Eagleton during the period Sept. 24 through Oct. 1. A second poll is scheduled for February.

Tabulation of the responses was performed by Opinion Research Corp. located here. The New Jersey Poll is financed by grants of the Wallace-Eljabar Fund and the Eagleton Institute.

NEWCOMERS INVITED

By YWCA Group. The Princeton YWCA Newcomers' Club will hold a general meeting at 12:30 p.m. next Thursday, November 11, at the Y. All Princeton area newcomers who live within a 15-mile radius are invited to attend.

The program will be a talk about New Jersey, presented by New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. In addition to the general meeting, the Gourmet Interest Group will meet at 12:30 on Saturday, November 16, to hear a talk by Thomas Gopsill of Cointreau International, a Princeton resident for the past 11 years and member of many national and international gourmet groups, including the International Wine and Food Society.

Other interest groups will offer special programs this month and every month: book review, bridge, interior decorating and gardening, town and country tours, fine arts, "luncheon out," crafts and Princeton history.

Newcomers are also making baked items for their contribution to the YWCA's International Festival, scheduled for this Saturday and Sunday.

New members may join the club at any general meeting throughout the year. Nursery care for children one through five years is provided at a nominal fee for all Newcomer activities held at the YWCA. Further information on the club may be obtained by calling 924-4825.

MUSIC In Princeton

SERIES II CONCERT SET
By Dorian Quintet. The Dorian Woodwind Quintet will appear in Princeton this Monday, in the second of Series II of the Princeton University Concerts. The concert will begin at 8:30 p.m. at McCarter Theatre.

The Dorian Woodwind Quintet was founded in Tanglewood in 1961 under the auspices of the Fromm Foundation, when Aaron Copland described them as "an outstanding group of young instrumentalists. The 1961 Tanglewood season was highlighted by their performances." After its New York debut in the fall of that year, there were enthusiastic comments from the press.

Said The New York Times' critic: "They are superb young instrumentalists who are gifted and up-to-date. Their program was fresh and vital in the most exciting way. The skill was there, the approach was sound, the enterprise was extraordinary and the musical values enormous."

Since the Quintet's triumph at Tanglewood in 1961, the ensemble has become a major contributor to chamber music in the United States. In addition to cross-country, sold-out U.S. tours, the Quintet have concertized widely in Europe.

For their concert in Princeton, the Quintet will play: "Kvintet" Opus 43 (1922) by Carl Nielsen, "Opus Number Zoo: Children's Play" by Luciano Berio, "Woodwind Quintet" (1948) by Elliott Carter and "Quintette" (1949) by Jean Francaix.

Tickets are available at the McCarter Theatre Box Office. Student tickets at $2. are obtainable one hour before the performance.

FIRST CONCERT PLANNED
In St. Andrew's Series. The first concert in the current series of sacred music at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will be presented on Sunday, November 21, at 7:30 p.m.

Each of the featured singers is currently a soloist in the St. Andrew's Choir. Evelyn Bloom, formerly assistant music director of Columbus Boychoir School, has had extensive experience as a soprano soloist, including a Town Hall recital, a tour of the South Pacific, and roles with the Lyric Opera of Chicago.

Soprano Jean Thomas is well-known to Princeton audiences for her performances in local opera productions. Before coming here, she was for several seasons a member of the New York City Opera. Linda Kassul, a young contralto from Greenbrook, is a senior at Westminster Choir College.

James Heard, tenor, is the director of the Dunellen High School Choir, which has sung in Town Hall, at McCarter Theatre, and at the Trenton Museum, as well as in many other concerts throughout the state. Barry Ellison, a 1971 graduate of Westminster, is currently director of choral music at Hamilton Square High School.

These singers will combine in a program of seldom-heard vocal works by Buxtehude, Faure and Videro. Thomas McBeth, organist-choir director, will play organ works of Buxtehude, Videro, and Widor.

The public is invited. There is no admission charge, but a free-will offering will be taken for the benefit of these special concerts.

ORGAN RECITAL MONDAY
By Westminster Professor. Donald McDonald, professor of organ at Westminster Choir College since 1952 and well-known international recitalist, will give two identical recitals at the Choir College on Monday at 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the Casavant Recital Hall.

Dr. McDonald is also organist-choirmaster at Christ Church, United Methodist in New York City. He holds a Bachelor of Music degree from Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, and both the master's degree and Doctor of Sacred Music degree from Union Theological Seminary School of Sacred Music where he taught before joining the Westminster faculty.

As a recitalist, Dr. McDonald has played at two national conventions of the American Guild of Organists and in 1964 was recitalist for International Organ Week in Nurnberg, Germany.

These recitals, the first of the 1971-72 Casavant Series, are open to the public without charge.

CONCERT PLANNED
By Stuart Glee Club. Songs from "West Side Story," the Leonard Bernstein-Arthur Laurent musical, will be presented by the Stuart Country Day School Glee Club at a concert at 8 p.m. on Friday in the school auditorium.

A staged concert version involving both dancing and singing is planned. The guest artist will be Archie McKenzie, a student at Westminster Choir College. Miss Ruth Kay Walker, director of music at Stuart, is in charge of the program.

NEXT MEETING SUNDAY
For Musical Amateurs. The Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will hold its next meeting at 5 p.m. Sunday at the Unitarian Church. Mrs. Barbara C. Lewis will conduct Brahms' "Nanie" and "Schicksalslied" with chorus and full orchestra but no soloists.

Anyone wishing to attend may do so by getting in touch with Mrs. M. B. Gottlieb at 921-7214. There will be a small charge for non-members to cover music and refreshments.

FIRST REHEARSAL SET
By Russian Chorus. This Thursday, the Princeton Russian Chorus will hold its initial rehearsal of the year at 7:30 in the Music Room of the Princeton Day School on the Great Road.

The Russian Chorus, under the direction of Daniel Skvir, is in its second year. During the Christmas season last year the chorus performed at the Carrier Clinic, at the Merwick branch of the Princeton Hospital and at the Nassau Inn singing traditional Slavic Christmas carols and liturgical music of the season. This year the chorus expects to expand both its repertoire and its scheduled appearances.

Last year the choir attracted members from Princeton Day School, Princeton University, Princeton High School, the Lawrenceville School, Rider College, Stuart Country Day and members of the Princeton community. The choir is now recruiting new members. "A knowledge of the Russian language is not a requirement for membership; the main requirement is enthusiasm and a love of Russian music" says Mr. Skvir.

All members of the community are cordially invited to TOWN TOPICS reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office. By their own figures no other Princeton newspaper does half as well.

join the choir at its first rehearsal.

Mr. Skvir, who teaches Russian and Russian history at PDS, has directed Russian choirs both in New York and New Jersey. A graduate of Princeton University and St. Vladimir's Orthodox Seminary, he is an ordained Deacon in the Orthodox Church, and presently directs the Chapel Choir of the Orthodox Fellowship at the University.

MUSIC CLUB TO MEET
Next Wednesday. The Princeton Music Club will enjoy a varied program at the home of Mr. William Scheide, 133 Library Place, on Wednesday evening, November 17, at 8:30.

Rameau's "4 Rondeaux" and Debussy's "Hommage a Rameau," played by Phyllis Billington, piano, will be followed by the Brahms Trio in A Minor, Op. 114, played by Cecile Herman, piano; Joan Thompson, cello, and Peter Cook, clarinet. Mr. Scheide will close the program with three Bach selections: Toccata in C Major and two pieces from the Clavierbung III.

ART In Princeton

PHOTOGRAPHS ON VIEW

At University Art Museum. Alfred Steiglitz devoted his career as a photographer to the development of photography as a creative experience. As one of the founders of the Photo Secession he worked actively to promote photography as an art form. It is possible to trace the development of this kind of expression in the current display on loan from Eastman House in Rochester.

The Alfred Steiglitz Memorial exhibit, "The Figure in Landscape" spans a century of photography. Starting with fine sepia landscapes and progressing to current styles and techniques in camera expression, the exhibition covers the great transition in this media from a means of recording visual experiences to a method of creating and expressing multidimensional ideas through the photograph.

The earlier photographs might be subtitled "Landscape with Figure." These older works are fine, sensitive photographs in which the figure is usually secondary to the scene and seems, in most of the works, to be used for scale, to enable the observer to appreciate the vast sweeps of scenery and structure in relation to the Lilliputian forms that accompany the views.

The photographs in this section of the exhibition represent the work of many photographers. They are remarkable for their technique in an era when photography as we know it did not exist. Cameras, plates and printing techniques were all cumbersome and difficult apparatuses and focus, fidelity and subtle techniques represented the great skill and determination of the photographer.

The exhibition progresses rapidly once the century turns and skims through five decades. More space and variety is given to the last ten years, where a very different kind of photograph is displayed which could possibly be called "The figure is landscape." In this grouping of contemporary photographs utilizing the human form, the technical and artistic freedom of the photograph is quite apparent. The photograph and the figure have become vehicles for expressing form, pattern or profound ideas. Symbolism, distortion, perspective, light and shadow are all combined at the discretion of the photographer to create the effects and meanings he desires. A mixed media approach is also displayed in the recent photography using textural surfaces and the occasional addition of hand drawn line and color.

At the Princeton Study Center. The current exhibition of paintings by Louise Davis represents two very exciting, distinctly different, non-objective phases in the career of this talented young artist. In the earlier series Mrs. Davis disregards color and explores rhythm and line.

In her current paintings she has explored a new and very unusual medium which she creates herself out of beeswax and pigment. The results are large, subtly toned, non-objective paintings in which she builds an exceptionally rich textural surface. The translucent wax, as a vehicle for the pigment creates great depths of color in its many layers of tone and texture that are applied with brush and blowtorch.

One very early painting, and oil study of flowers is included in the exhibition. Although quite different from her other works in its style, the same control of color and pleasing use of paint and form make this still life one to be admired.

At The Artisan. Oil paint as an art medium is on the wane with the advent of easier and more flexible polyesters and synthetics. It is, therefore, even more interesting than it used to be to find an artist using this rich, traditional medium. Such is the case with Ann Mitchell whose use of oil paint often complements her traditional subject matter.

Miss Mitchell, a self taught artist, lives and works at the Jersey shore. She paints in representational form, doing seascapes, landscapes and still life. Perhaps living at the shore is inspiring for her seascapes and wharf scenes are the strongest in this collection. It is in the paintings of boat and beach that paint is used most effectively and she develops her color in rich overpainting and textural changes.

At Gallery 100. Collage by Irene Waring is a collection of bright little people in gay little villages. Very detailed literal collages in a primitive style create an overall effect of high color and texture.

This artist chooses her materials carefully and combines fabric, ribbon, textured and printed surfaces and magazine cutouts in her scenes. No detail is overlooked, and in an interior of a museum there are tiny paintings created in collage.

Paintings by Jacques Kupferman are in this artist's usual heavy impasto style. He lets his medium do part of the creative work by allowing color to mix freely in his deep, paint swirls.

Form is sacrificed in many of the paintings where the feeling is solely one of paint and motion. Most interesting are landscapes in soft color which create an impressionistic feeling with muted color relationships and vague forms.

PAA SHOW ON DISPLAY

At McCarter Theatre. The Juried Prints and Drawings Show sponsored by the Princeton Art Association and juried by John Ross and Clare Romano is now on display at McCarter Theatre.

The judges chose Marie Starcken's intaglio-collagraph "Of Greek Things" for first place. Second place went to Margaret K. Johnson's intaglio "Line Dance," and Ruth Crawford's charcoal "Scott" won third place.

"Integrated Circuit" a collagraph by Ann Gross won honorable mention. Also winning honorable mention were Jane Teller's pen and ink "Daphne" and Joan Needham's etching "Spiral." These and other works accepted for the show will be on view through December 6.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

At Art Museum. The Museum Volunteer Docents (Guides) of the Art Museum of Princeton University have planned an open house at the museum for 3:30 to 5 this Thursday.

Teachers from the Princeton area as well as other parts of New Jersey and Pennsylvania have been invited. Museum Docents will give a series of sample tours to demonstrate some possible topics and approaches for use with school children.

These include elementary grades, "Animals in Art," Mrs. Lyman Spitzer; middle grades, "History and Religion in Art" Mrs. Carl Breuer; high school, "Art and Society Today," Mrs. David Kinsman.

Teachers will also have

An exhibition of photographs from the George Eastman House in Rochester is now at The Art Museum, Princeton University. Entitled "Figure in Landscape," the exhibition has 114 photographs, all on the theme of the human figure in a natural setting. Among the photographers represented are Eugene Atget, Harry Callahan, Walker Evans, Alfred Stieglitz, and Minor White.

In conjunction with the exhibit, Peter Bunnell, Curator of Photography at the Museum of Modern Art, will give a lecture on "Aspects of the History of Photography," Tuesday, November 30, in McCosh 10 at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Both the exhibition and the lecture are sponsored by David H. McAlpin, Pretty Brook Road. The photographs will be on exhibit until December 2.

Swiss Posters. The museum, also is currently presenting an exhibition of "Modern Swiss Posters," through Sunday, December 12.

Organized by Aaron Marcus, assistant professor in the Visual Arts Program and in the School of Architecture and Urban Planning at Princeton University, the exhibit focuses on the works of several artists-designers whose attitudes towards visual imagery and composition have had considerable international influence on graphic design, particularly during the late 1950s and early 1960s.

The posters stress the use of a limited family of typefaces, simplified imagery, use of "negative" space, consistency of design, and careful composition. Most of the posters have been designed for theater and concert performances and for art exhibitions. Given particular attention is the work

Why not buy a sure winning number for your fellow man who is less fortunate than you?

You win and so does he when you aid your neighbor who needs your help. Your contribution to the United Fund-Red Cross combined campaign helps them make it.

Twenty-one agencies all work for the community with your dollars. Once a year you contribute where you work - and it works miracles. This year, 1971, the magic figure is $619,916 which will maintain these 21 agencies and the helpful work they do in the greater Princeton area.

Your United Fund-Red Cross $619,916 campaign for 1971 will serve vital needs in Princeton, Hightstown, East Windsor, Rocky Hill, Kingston, Lower South Brunswick, Plainsboro, Griggstown, Cranbury, West Windsor, Montgomery Township, and areas of Lawrenceville, Hopewell and Pennington.

There's no better way to pick a winner than to add your contribution to the $619,916 needed this year by your United Fund-Red Cross.

The research endeavor has been funded in its first year by a $450,000 Congressional appropriation. The funds will go for the salaries of six scientists, five technicians, two clerk typists and an administrative assistant, plus travel, equipment and supplies. Also, a part of the appropriation has been earmarked for grants to cooperating universities.

Forest Service researchers will be housed with the Stony Brook - Millstone Watershed Association near Pennington, and will conduct their investigations on the 330 acres of the Association's New Land Research Reserve.

There their studies will concentrate on establishing the quantitative benefits or amenities of trees and on establishing guidelines for planning and managing trees and vegetation on forested municipal watersheds, so that these watersheds can be compatible for recreation and other uses, as well as for supplying quality water.

Forest Service researchers point out that while trees and forests are known to have desirable effects on the human environment, many of their effects are not fully understood. Research might contribute to a better understanding of why, for example, city temperatures can be as much as 20 degrees F. higher than temperatures in surrounding forested parks and tree-filled suburbs.

ART, AT STUART

The Gazagnaires, A husband-and-wife team, Jean and Hellen Gazagnaire, will display their works in the second of the Stuart Country Day School's 1971-72 series of art exhibits.

The exhibit will open this Sunday with a preview and tea from 4-6 p.m. It will remain at the Stuart Gallery until December 1, and may be seen Saturdays and Sundays from 2-5 p.m., or by appointment.

M. and Mme. Gazagnaire (Hellen Stern) studied in their native France, and have achieved recognition in both fine and commercial art.

Their frescoes were first shown at the Exposition Internationale of 1937 in Paris, and also in the Salon des Tuileries in Paris in 1937 and 1938.

Since 1950, the Gazagnaires have worked as designers in textiles and wall-papers, at the same time continuing to work in oils, watercolors, murals and frescoes. Landscapes reflect the Gazagnaires' travels, and depict such varied locations as Mexico, the New England coast and the south of France.

Scientists also hope to examine the contribution of different tree species and sizes, as well as different planting configurations, to wide strip of trees will reduce noise by about 6 to 8 decibels. Along a busy intercity highway, which can generate 72 to 78 decibels of sound, an ever-greater noise reduction might be accomplished if scientists can determine proper arrangements for planting trees and other vegetation.

Edward B. McConnell, 45 Knoll Drive, Administrative Director of the Courts of New Jersey, is on leave for this month to serve, at the invitation of the Minister of Justice of Japan, as visiting lecturer at the United Nations Asia and Far East Institute in Tokyo.

Attending the Institute will be judges and ministry of justice officials from a dozen Asian countries. After leaving Japan, he will visit some 10 countries, including Thailand, India, Iran, Egypt, Italy and France.

A member of the Board of Trustees and of the faculty of the Institute of Court Management at the University of Denver and a member of the faculty of the Institute of Judicial Administration's annual Appellate Judges Seminar at New York University, Mr. McConnell is also on the Advisory Board of the newly established National State Court Center in Washington, D. C. A former member of the faculty of the Rutgers University School of Business, Mr. McConnell is an alumnus of the University of Nebraska and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration and is a member of the bar of Nebraska and New Jersey.

Peter C. Hartsuff, 9 Cherry Brook Drive, Montgomery Township, stockbroker with Hornblower & Weeks - Hemphill, Noyes, has earned a 10-day trip for two to Acapulco for outstanding sales achievement. A registered representative for the firm's Trenton office, Mr. Hartsuff has been associated with Hornblower since 1969.

Dr. Enid H. Campbell, 111 Maclean Circle, has been named to the 1972-73 edition of "Who's Who in the East". Dr. Campbell is chairman of the Psychology Department at Trenton State College.

She has been a member of the Trenton State College faculty since 1959, serving as a professor of psychology. Dr. Campbell is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Swarthmore College and holds a master of arts degree from Bryn Mawr College and a Ph.D. from Yale University.

Miss Susan Elizabeth Combs, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William C. Combs, Jr., 18 Winfield Road, was a member of the cast and the costume committee for "Lady Precious Stream," a recent production of the Experimental Theatre at Vassar College.

Miss Combs, a graduate of Stuart Country Day School and a senior at Vassar, is centering her studies in drama. She was in the cast of "The Good Woman of Setzuan" and "The Virgin, the Lizard and the Lamb" in her sophomore year.

A Busy Month for Harold Mantell

Film producer Harold Mantell, 199 Nassau Street, has had one film premiere this week and is planning two more within the next month.

His new film, "e e cummings: The Making of a Poet," had a premiere showing at New York's Museum of Modern Art, Tuesday, prior to its release to schools, colleges and educational television.

His film, "I Am Pablo Neruda," will be shown in Sweden at the same time the Chilean poet Neruda receives the 1971 Nobel Prize for Literature in Stockholm early in December. New York's WNET Channel 13 will present the film — its television premiere in the U.S. — on Tuesday evening, December 7.

Mantell's third premiere will take place December 11 at the United Nations, New York, where the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) will present his film, "All Our Futures," to mark the 25th anniversary of UNICEF's founding.

"e e cummings: The Making of a Poet" fuses Cummings' own paintings, drawing and notebook to rediscover the scenes, the sites, the parents and friends, the events that helped to shape the unique vision of American's great lyric and satiric poet. The film is narrated completely in the voice and the words of the poet himself. Directed and produced by Mr. Mantell, the film will be released by Films for the Humanities, the distribution organization headed by Mantell.

"I Am Pablo Neruda," dealing with the life and work of Latin America's most popular poet, was written, directed and produced by Mr. Mantell in close collaboration with the Chilean poet at the latter's seaside home in Chile, Isla Negra. Anthony Quayle narrates the film together with Neruda.

"All Our Futures," produced, written and directed by Mr. Mantell, is a survey of UNICEF's worldwide services to children in developing countries during the last 25 years. Special footage depicts the needs of children — and ways in which they are being helped — in Asia, Africa and Latin America. Peter Ustinov is the narrator of the film which will be distributed by UNICEF affiliates to television and non-theatrical audiences in all countries.

While even a tie for the Ivy title seems beyond the realm of the slimmest possibility, Princeton's 1971 football team can attain a goal unrealized by any Tiger eleven in the past four years. If the constantly improving Orange and Black defeats Yale here Saturday, it will win the Big Three title for the first time since 1966.

Game time in Palmer Stadium is 1:30. A crowd upwards of 30,000 is expected to watch Princeton end the longest string of victories Yale has brought into the series since it won four straight between 1907 and 1910.

Virtually everything in the two teams' performance this season points to a clear-cut Tiger triumph save the fact that in this rivalry — more than any other with Princeton's traditional opponents — the underdog often manages to keep the battle close. This was the case as recently as last fall, when a sorely-troubled Orange and Black squad yielded 21 points to a vastly superior Eli contingent and then had a shot at victory before bowing, 27 to 22.

QUICK LOOK AT YALE

OFFENSE: Elis have had reasonable quarterback problems and can field only one running back (Dick Jauron) of superior ability. Averaging 100 yards less per game in Ivy action than Princeton.

DEFENSE: Not up to top Eli standard of recent years but still as good as any Tigers will meet this fall. Only Cornell has scored more than two TDs against the Blue in league games this season.

CHIEF ASSET: Running of Jauron, plus overall doggedness of Yale personnel. Elis never quit.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Varsity holdovers and sophomores could not make up for heavy graduation losses. Current personnel Yale's weakest in five years.

TYPE OF ATTACK: T with variations.

HARVARD FEELS DEFENSIVE PRESSURE: Bob Saunders (62) and Norm Townsend (89) of Princeton's front four crowd Harvard quarterback Jim Stoeckel (26) as Tigers begin to turn game around Saturday at Cambridge. The five passes Orange and Black picked off in 21-10 victory were one short of league record.

The Tigers may prove their own worst enemy on Saturday, as the team which the seniors dominate seeks to gain revenge for the beatings of the past four years. All season long, overagerness has resulted, in Jake McCandless' words, in "our being so psyched up that we have made costly mistakes we never should have."

Who's the Quarterback? In common with most Ivy teams this fall, Yale has alternated quarterbacks, partially through lack of a true stand out and also because of injuries. The Blue started the season with senior Chuck Sizemore, derricking him in favor of junior Don Pfeil and then went with junior Roly Purrington last week after Pfeil was sidelined with a concussion in the Dartmouth game.

Purrington, little used during his varsity career because of a separated shoulder suffered early in his sophomore year, played well in the Elis' 21-14 triumph over Penn. He was 9 for 21 passing and added 55 yards on the ground in Yale's roll out style offense.

Pfeil is around .500 in passing accuracy and adds to the Bulldogs' ground game by running often — 76 carries for 241 yards. The Blue's principal ground game is halfback Dick Jauron, who is averaging 5.2 per carry and in six games has gained almost as much yardage (718) as Hank Bjorklund, who has 750. Like Pfeil, Jauron was out of action against Penn but is expected back this weekend.

Yale's other principal ball carrier is 195-lb. fullback Greg Mierzwinski; its principal receivers are 6-2 Rich Maher, the captain, and 6-5 Kim Hammerberg, the starting ends. The Bulldogs started the season with 28 lettermen but their losses from 1970 included six first-team all Ivy selections and they have had more problems this season than any in the last four. In fact, if they lose here Saturday, their five defeats in 1971 will be equal to the total number of games they have dropped since 1967.

Yale split its non-Ivy games, defeating Connecticut and losing to Colgate. Among the Ivies, it has defeated only Brown and Penn, losing by two points to Dartmouth, by one to Columbia and by 31-10 to Cornell.

TIGERS WERE LUCKY

But Eventually Good, Too. Any team which loses the ball on fumbles four times, twice more on interceptions and suffers what amounts to a blocked kick when the punter can not handle the ball following

Defense Paves Way to 4-Game Winning Streak

When a football team averages 34 points in its last four games, a four-game winning streak is hardly a surprise. But here in Princeton, a major share of the credit for the four in a row the Tigers have won goes to the platoon which almost never gets its hands on the ball.

For the third straight Saturday last week, Princeton's opponent was held to a minus total in yards gained rushing during the second half. In fact, the Tigers improved markedly over their stingy showing against Penn and Brown by pairing 25 yards off Harvard's total in the third and fourth quarters.

The defense, of course, does get its hands on the ball occasionally—other than on punt returns. At Cambridge, it did so half a dozen times, recovering one fumble and intercepting five passes. The latter figure came within two of the total number of completions Harvard's harassed quarterbacks managed to their own receivers.

So dominant was the Princeton defense at Cambridge that if the offense had played errorless ball, Harvard would in all probability have been shut out. A fumble by the Tigers set up the Crimson field goal and its lone touchdown drive began following an interception.

Captain Bob Wolfe's play against Harvard symbolized the Tigers' eagerness to do well as he intercepted two passes and broke up another that was tagged for a sure touchdown in the final quarter.

"He woke up at 3 this morning with stomach cramps," reported Jake McCandless, "and could eat no breakfast. A lot of people who felt that way wouldn't even have gone to a football game, much less play in one."

Linebacker Joe Parsons, who also intercepted twice and added to his season's lead in tackles made with eight more, was named to the All-East Team for the week. But they gave the game ball to defensive end Norm Townsend for his outstanding play, and Townsend promptly gave it to John Ulam, the sophomore safety whose knee injury benched him for the season.

When Yale has the ball Saturday, Princeton will be well worth watching.

a poor center snap can count itself extremely lucky to win by 21 to 10. In the long run, however, the Tigers were good enough at Cambridge Saturday so that no one doubted they had earned the decision of their second-half play.

Trailing from the outset, they were still on the short end of a 10-7 count as the final period began. But that moment also saw them launch a 65-yard march which was featured by three straight pass completions by quarterback Jim Flynn and climaxed by a spectacular 41-yard burst around right end by Bjorklund. The run came on a 4th-and-1 situation, Harvard pinched its defense for the anticipated plunge into the middle and Bjorklund was gone almost before the Crimson defense could recover.

Having given up a 41-yard field goal as a result of Doug Blake's fumble and seven points more following a pass interception, the Tigers would have been in deep trouble if a 45-yard Harvard pass play that reached the end zone had not been cancelled out for holding. As it was, they managed to carve the Crimson lead down to 10-7 by going 67 yards in the closing minutes of the second period. Bjorklund getting the first of his three TDs when he went in from the two-yard line.

The drive was made possible because a Harvard back tried to field a partially-blocked punt and fumbled it on the Princeton 33, center Paul Yakulis recovering for the Tigers. Had the Crimson let it roll, it would have gotten the ball about there and been in fine position to add to its 10-point lead before the half ended. Later, a gloomy Joe Restic, Harvard's first-year coach, called the play the game's turning point.

Tigers Stave Off Trouble. The third period was the only scoreless quarter of the ball game, but it was pockmarked with more trouble for the Tigers. Harvard intercepted a Flynn pass but stalled out at the Princeton 38, then recovered a Bjorklund fumble and moved to the Tiger 9.

On the next play, linebacker Joe Parsons intercepted a pass on the Tiger 6, and while Princeton could not gain, Rich Lang punted to the Harvard 34. The Crimson never again crossed midfield and from where he viewed the game, Jake McCandless called Parsons' interception the turning point for Princeton.

The drive for the Orange and Black's second touchdown gave the visitors a 14-10 lead with more than 11 minutes left. The

FIRST OF FIVE: Defensive back Bob Schuster grabbed this second period pass to give Princeton possession. In second half, linebacker Joe Parsons intercepted two, as did Captain Bob Wolfe. (Bob Matthews Photo)

Tigers' defensive pressure mounted almost with each series of downs, and when Parsons picked off another pass on the Harvard 30 and ran it back to the 3, doubt about the

but he told Boston sportswriters in the locker room that, having missed the Brown game, "I was rusty." His total for the day was three times the net figure credited to Harvard on the ground.

Flynn Gains Experience. The extreme pressure that was on sophomore quarterback Jim Flynn throughout the first half could almost be felt by Princetonians watching in the stands. Playing against the toughest opponent he has faced to date, and starting his first contest away from home, he had a variety of problems with his passing game.

Aerials overthrown, plus an interception, were compounded by a pair of fumbles and the kick that Lang never made because the center snap bounced along the ground and Harvard smothered him to gain possession. Counting a pass on which Bjorklund overthrew Flynn as the intended receiver, the Tigers were six for 15 in the first half, compared to Harvard's five for ten.

However, just as the Princeton defense eventually gained a strong upper hand, so did Flynn take firm charge. In the second half, he was three for five in the air and guided the drive which put Princeton ahead for good with visible competence.

of the Tigers' future; he completely outplayed Harvard's two quarterbacks. Stoeckel finished with only seven completions in 20 tries and was debilitated with three interceptions. Junior Eric Crone, who took over for him after Princeton had moved ahead on the scoreboard, failed to complete one among the four he threw and was charged with the two interceptions credited to Wolfe.

Now, the Tigers head for Yale, and then Dartmouth, with the awareness that they are capable of playing extremely solid football. They continue to create at least as many problems for themselves as the opposition manages to provide, and any repetition of the half dozen turnovers of which they were guilty in Cambridge could result in defeat this weekend.

If, on the other hand, Princeton can avoid mistakes and play its best football of the season, its total output may well be considerably more than the Elis can hang on the board. And a Tiger triumph over Yale is something that has not been seen in Palmer Stadium since 1965.

FIRST WIN AT HAND?

PHS Vs. Notre Dame. At long last, the Princeton High School football team can hold its head up high.

Last week, the Little Tigers outplayed the area's No. 1 ranked Steinert in every department but the final score. Although it lost the game, 18-7, it won a lot of respect from the victors and self-confidence for itself. Off its performance against the Spartans, PHS has a good chance of winning its first game Saturday at Notre Dame.

The Irish are going nowhere this season. Their 32-12 loss to Ewing last week was their third in a row; they have won only one of seven starts.

PHS, on the other hand, is clearly moving in the right direction. "I'm very pleased. We played pretty well against Perth Amboy and if we put it together like we did against Steinert, we should have a good game next week," commented PHS coach Dick Wood.

Kickoff for the Notre Dame game will be 2 p.m. After that, all that remains is the home finale against Cherry Hill East. Cherry Hill, usually a power, is 3-4 this season and like Notre Dame, represents a possible PHS win.

Only 27 Suit Up. Only 27 players suited up for PHS in the Steinert game, but PHS was far from outmanned in performance. The Blue and White enjoyed a fat lead in first downs over Steinert, 13-3, in rushing, 108 to 50 and in passing, 93-59. Inability to come up with the big play when it was in scoring position and two big plays by Steinert denied PHS an upset of heroic proportions.

Steinert, which in winning clinched at least a tie for the Mercer County championship, returned Princeton's opening kickoff 88 yards for six points. Matt Wolski took advantage of some poor coverage by the home team and raced untouched down the sidelines. The point after touchdown kick attempt was wide.

PHS came right back, marching 67 yards in six plays. Most of it came on a run by fullback Bobby Weisbecker who burst into the clear and was finally brought down on the Steinert two. It was one of Princeton's longest runs of the season.

A clipping penalty against PHS on the play moved the Little Tigers back, but tailback Joe McGuinn, passing better with each game, found Chris Grazel all alone in the end zone for a 14 yard aerial strike.

When Ned Fry booted the extra point, PHS held the lead for the first time this season.

Lightning Strikes Twice. Steinert could not move at all

Sports Clinics Planned

Those planning to attend the football game in Palmer Stadium between Princeton and Dartmouth on November 20 can get a preview of the winter sports season which begins a scant ten days later. Under the sponsorship of Princeton University's Alumni Council, basketball and hockey clinics will be held that morning at 10 o'clock, featuring scrimmages, lecture demonstrations and opportunities to meet the players and coaches.

Basketball Coach Pete Carril and his squad will stage a session in Jadwin Gym which will include a scrimmage against American University. Following the practice game, the Tiger coach and his players will run through some of the basics of basketball and the session will conclude with players and coaches meeting those attending.

At the same hour in Baker Rink, the Tiger hockey team will engage in an intra-squad scrimmage and Coach Bill Quackenbush will conduct a seminar in the elementary rules and tactics of the sport. Here, too, fans may mingle with the coaches and players at the conclusion of the session.

against the fired up Little Tigers and had to punt. Disaster struck, however, with lightning speed again.

The kick was long and high. Bearing down on Princeton's two deep receivers, Dane Black and Bob Zinsmeister, were a clutch of Steinert tacklers. Instead of calling for a fair catch, Zinsmeister, coming up behind Black, said he had it. A mixup ensued between the two.

When Zinsmeister backed off, Black made a desperate lunge for the ball but neither ever had control of it. It bounced off Black and forward into the end zone, where Steinert's Dennis Young fell on it for the TD. Ren Scott stopped Steinert's Ken Perry trying to run over the extra point.

Again PHS fought back. On a fourth and sixth, Steve Sanford faked a punt and ran for a first down on the Spartan 25. Two plays later, McGuinn passed to Tom Hofgesang in the end zone but he dropped the ball. Fry's attempted field goal from the 29-yard line was short.

10 Yards Rushing. In the half, Steinert was held to 10 yards rushing to 95 for PHS. Steinert's heralded quarterback, Mickey Roman, was 0 for 2 in passing.

In the scoreless third period, a delayed pass in the flat from McGuinn to Sanford was good for a first down on the Steinert five. Again, PHS couldn't push it over and Fry's second field goal try was short.

Steinert scored its third TD in the final period when Art Stroman bulled over from three yards out. During the drive Roman hit on two passes. His second appeared headed for a sure interception by Black who was in front of the ball but he slipped at the last moment. "It was really the only touchdown they earned," said Wood.

Princeton's performance was all the more remarkable in light of its having only one day of contact practice before the game. The squad had been caught in the middle in a two-week squabble between the coaches and administration over the dismissal of a football player.

Wood attributed Princeton's shutting down of the Steinert offense to a four-four stacked defense used by the Little Tigers throughout the game. "It's really starting to work," he said.

In the 4-4, Wood explained, the players stunt on every play. "The other team doesn't know what way they're coming, and it's hard for the offensive team to block."

Steinert coach Pete Brescia was apparently so upset by his team's poor performance that he refused to greet Wood after the game.

Other Results. The PDS soccer team beat Pennington 3-2 in overtime Friday to run its final season record to 10-1-1 and win its first state prep title. The win gave PDS first place in the Class B, or small prep school division, in the NJSSA regular-season standings.

Inside David Straut collected two goals, including the tie-breaker, while co-captain Gialf Ferrante scored the other.

George School's cross country team took five of the first six places to hand Princeton Day School a 17-39 home-course defeat. It was the Panthers' final race of the season, which they finished with an 8-7 records.

The Blue and White's field hockey team kept its undefeated record intact when it played to a scoreless tie with its rival across the road, Stuart Country Day School. The PDS jayvee team had no trouble trouncing the Stuart seconds, 5-1, led by Evelyn Turner's three goals. Kip Herick and Jean Beckwith added one goal each.

HUN FINALE SATURDAY Needs Win for .500. The Hun football team, which had been undefeated in the previous three seasons, finds itself this year approaching its final game needing a victory for a .500 season.

Hun should get it. Its final opponent will be Bordentown Military Institute, which has won only one this fall. The game will be played at the Hun field starting at 2. It will also be their last meeting, as BMI plans to leave this area to join with a private school in Massachusetts.

In its game last week with Pingry, Hun won the second half, 14-0, as quarterback Alan Chalifoux threw touchdown passes of 40 and 11 yards to end Scott Johnson. Chalifoux kicked both extra points.

Pingry, however, won the first half, 21-0, and the game. Turnovers hurt Hun. A recovered fumble led to one Pingry score and a fumbled punt to another.

"We just didn't play good football in the first half," said Hun coach Dave Leete.

The running of halfback Greg Rafalski highlighted Hun's resurgent ground game in the second half. Time and again, Rafalski, behind the blocking of fullback Chuck Sista and halfback Jack MacKie ripped off long gainers.

Two Hun drives were stalled when Pingry held on downs.

Hun missed a third score late in the game when Pete Jones, in the clear, dropped a pass on the 20. Both teams left the gridiron with 3-4 records.

VICTORS WIN TURKEYS

In Sunday's Carnegie Races. It was turkey handicap day Sunday in the Carnegie Sailing Club's ninth week of racing in the fall series.

In each class the skipper whose one-day average showed the greatest improvement over his fall series average won a Thanksgiving turkey, and in both the Sunfish and Sloop classes the first-place finishers for the day also won the turkey on the basis of this handicap rating. In the Sloop class, Paul Porter kept his boat up-right and dry to take first place, edging Hector Poventud and Jim McPherson.

In the Sunfish class, John Hopfield finished first, followed by Bob Holzman and Jack Kunz. In both classes the season's competition for the first-place trophies remained extremely close, with the final day of racing next Sunday to decide the outcome. Hopfield and Holzman are in a virtual tie for the top spot among the Sunfish, while only .14 of a point separate Poventud and McPherson in the Sloops.

PDS WINS FIRST

Evades Winless Season, Just two quarters away from completing a winless season, the Princeton Day football team put together its finest half of football of the whole fall, scoring three touchdowns for a 20-8 triumph over MacArthur Military.

The victory brought the Panthers to the end of a 1-6 season, nothing to be particularly happy about, but certainly nothing to feel ashamed about either.

With graduation losses last year of several key players, PDS faced this season having to build a whole new offense. The defense ran into problems with an inexperienced secondary, and the annual trouble of the physically smaller PDS squad meeting larger teams also hurt.

Unfortunately coach George Conway will lose three-fourths of his offensive punch this year also. Co-captain Kirk Moore, Rob Gips and Paul Funk, all halfbacks will graduate, leaving quarterback Tad van Dusen alone in the backfield. Some key linemen like co-captain John Kalpin and Steve Zudnack will go also.

On the bright side, van Dusen showed in the MacArthur game that he is learning to find his receivers, which should mean a better passing game for PDS next year. He hit on six of eight in the game, including two or three on key third down situations.

In the first half, PDS and MacArthur exchanged punts and turnovers frequently with neither team appearing to have the upper hand. PDS did get a big break, when a MacArthur 60 yard punt return for a touchdown was called back because of a roughing the kicker penalty.

However, in the second half it didn't take the Blue and White long to turn things their way. Moore broke over tackle on the first PDS offensive play of the third period and went 30 yards for the first score. Dave Wagneseil booted the extra point making it 7-0, and PDS was never headed.

Later in the period PDS took over on a short punt by the visitors. Gips swept left-end from 10 yards out for the score. Wagneseil's kick was good and it was 14-0. Early in the fourth period Funk went in from five yards out for the final tally.

MacArthur picked up its lone score a few minutes later when its quarterback, Len Jones, apparently trapped while passing, scrambled for a 60-yard score. The two-point conversion was good.

HILTON, PETERSON TIED
In Junior Midget Football. A polished ground game gave Hilton Realty a 6-0 victory over a stubborn J. P. Cleaver defense and earned Hilton a tie for first place with Peterson Construction in the Junior Division of the Midget Football League.

Hilton rushed for 131 yards

PDS ON THE WAY TO FIRST VICTORY: Sophomore end John Boyd hauls in a pass from quarterback Tad van Dusen good for a first down on the way to a Princeton Day touchdown. The Panthers won their first game of the season Friday, 20-8, from MacArthur Military Academy.

With Todd Miller accounting for 94 yards and John Rosenthal adding 36 more, Earl, in the second quarter, Miller found running room and raced around left end for 50 yards and six points. Hilton threatened again in the third quarter. Miller and Rosenthal drove 40 yards to the Cleaver 20 yard-stripe, but the alert play of Cleaver's defensive men (Pierre Muri, Jeff Raser, Ron Ward, Adam Bierman, Darryl Grisham, Kurt Tazelaar, Rick Miller, Tom Seiler and Charlie Waaben) forced Hilton to yield the ball on downs.

Cleaver got its chance to tie early in the fourth stanza when Ron Ward recovered a Hilton fumble on the 14 yard line. Ward, Tony Opperman and Charlie Waaben smashed to the Hilton 6 yard line and their hopes were killed by a fumble recovered for Hilton by Wojciechowiez. Mike Budd, Lou Davis, Chris Wells, Ed Gibson, Bobby Baumer and Todd Miller of Hilton's defensive unit made sure that Cleaver was not in scoring position again.

In the other junior league game, Sibson rebounded from last week's defeat by passing its way to a 12-0 victory over a much improved First National team. First National's defensive unit, led by Bob McAvonia, Tommy Ferguson, Jordan Paul, Peter Wilson, Fain Hackney, Luke Petrocelli and Chris Price, showed unexpected strength as it held Sibson to 35 yards rushing.

On the first play from scrimmage Sibson's Charlie Phox threw the bomb to Phil Billington for a 60-yard touchdown play. Embarrassed by this momentary lapse, First National fought back and prevented Sibson from marching on the ground, despite many fine runs by Charlie Phox, Dave Miller, Phil Billington and Brian Cleveland. For First National, Chris Price, Tommy Ferguson, Fain Hackney, Kieran Esposito and Peter Wilson ran well, but they were unable to sustain a drive against the rugged Sibson defense manned by John Sapoch, Andy Longman, Kelly Robinson, Keith Wood, Dave Miller and Bob Mooney.

Midway in the third quarter, an 80-yard pass play from Dave Miller to Phil Billington accounted for Sibson's second and final score. Neither team made headway thereafter and the game ended with the score 12-0 in Sibson's favor.

The Junior Division plays its final games of the season Saturday morning, with the spotlight on the 9:30 game in which Hilton Realty meets Peterson Construction for the Division Championship.

and Rug & Furniture Mart battled to a 6-6 tie, while Nassau Conover topped Fuel Oil, 15-2.

Kenny Bullock was the big gun for Nassau Conover, scoring both its touchdowns. The first was a 70-yard gallop in the first period; the second a 77-yard run in the final period. Kevin Streater backed up Bullock with 55 yards rushing.

Defensively, the victors were led by John Crow who had seven tackles and by Bobby Cronin, Raymond Kang, Scott Train, Jay Trubee and Dean Boyer.

Fuel Oil got its only two points when Ed Frick tackled a Conover runner in the end zone for a safety. Eric Ziolkowski gained the most yardage for Fuel Oil against the strong Conover defense.

Brendon Ward led the losers' defense with seven tackles. Others who stood out were George Spencer, Stanton Brooks, Robert Williams and Ken Bartolino.

Howard Brooks Scores. Howard Brooks of Rug Mart put his team's only points on the board when he raced 45 yards in the second period. He and Terry McEwen combined for 86 yards rushing.

The U Store tied it in the third period on Lenwood Thomas' five-yard burst through the Rug Mart line. David Lacy with 30 yards was the second half of the U Store offense. Thomas also completed three passes, two to Lacy and added a 50-yard run back of an intercepted pass in the fourth period to his list of achievements.

The Rug Mart defense was led by Tom Hagadorn, Terry McEwen, David Lynton, Bruno Perna, Robert Rumer and James Lion.

Dana Nini was outstanding for the U Store on defense with 11 individual tackles. He was given strong support from David Lacy, Tony Lewis, Lewis Gumbiner, Mark Debiase, Cory Easter and Robert Germon.

Both teams tried hard to score in the final periods but their efforts were in vain — so tough was the defense on both sides.

TOURNEY POSTPONED

To November 13. The third annual Somerset County open indoor tennis tournament, sponsored by the Somerville Area Jaycees, scheduled to begin Saturday has been postponed to Saturday, November 13.

Play will begin 9 a.m. at the Nassau Racquet & Tennis Club located between Somerville and Princeton on Route 206. There will be men's singles and doubles and women's singles events. There are no restrictions on who may enter.

The entry fee is $5 for singles and $8 for doubles teams. Silver bowls will be awarded to the winners and runners-up. All proceeds will go to the Somerville Area Jaycees' youth and sports program.

Returning this year will be last year's men's singles champion, Bill Foreman; and David Glyn-Jones, the 35 and older champion.

Nassau has a synthetic playing surface which plays like clay and a large viewing area for spectators.

Entries are still being accepted. Anyone wishing information may contact tournament chairman, Jack Nuckolls, 32 Woodmere Street, Raritan, N. J. 08869. Phone (201) 526-0329.

THREE TITLES WON

By Little Family in Tennis. None of the tennis-loving Little family won any of the first six events in the annual West Windsor Recreation Department tournament but in the last three events the Littles took three titles.

In the boys singles, Kevin Little defeated Larry Martz in the finals. Kevin won the first set, 6-1. Larry the second, 6-3, and then with the third and deciding set tied at 6-6. Kevin won the sudden-death point, 5-3. Kevin had earlier overcome Greg Spencer, 6-1, 6-0, and Glenn McClelland, 6-1, 6-0, while Martz had defeated Malcolm Huckins, 6-0, 6-1.

The father-son duo of Bob and Kevin Little captured this tournament with a 6-2, 6-2 win over Bernd and Brian Midland. The Midlands had entered the finals with a 6-3, 6-4 win over Bill and Greg Christensen.

Bob and Gwenda Little won the mixed doubles with a 6-3, 4-6, 6-4 win over Roberta Borden and Percy Banks. The Littles had advanced to the finals with a 6-3, 6-3 win over Bob and Boots Edelbluts, a 6-4, 6-3 win over John and Yvonne Macdonald and a 6-4, 6-3 win over Bill and Emily Christensen.

To reach the finals, the Borden-Banks team had defeated Ruth Plock and Harvey Coleman, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4. In other matches, the Edelbluts overcame the team of Jim and Sue Shea, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4, and Myra Hockman and Dave Singer, 6-4, 6-4. The Sheas had earlier conquered Mary Lou and Ken Syberg, 6-4, 6-3.

HAC ELIMINATED

From Flag Football Playoffs. Whenever and wherever they hold the Superbowl for the Mercer County Flag football league, one thing is now certain: the Harrison Athletic Club will not be a part of it this year.

The team, once a powerhouse to be reckoned with, finished another disappointing season last week, dropping a 27-8 contest to Joe & Lena's. Had HAC won, it stood an outside chance of finishing in fourth place and entering post-season playoffs. Now, after a meaningless game this Sunday against league-leading Jo-Jo's, the club can start looking ahead to next fall.

The veteran unit needs to get some speed in its offensive backfield and possibly some younger players. HAC's defense is also suspect. It's given up 153 points to date, 42 more than any other team.

In Sunday's contest, HAC held an 8-7 halftime lead on the strength of a George Packard to Greg Spady aerial that covered 40 yards. Packard threw to Dennis Reigle for the two-point conversion.

The second half, however, was all Joe & Lena's, as it scored three times, while holding HAC scoreless. The winners were helped by three interceptions, one of which went for a 35-yard score, and the inability of the HAC defense to grab the flag.

The other Princeton entry, Ivy Inn will meet Joe & Lena's this Sunday at 11 a.m. at Community Park in the battle for the last remaining playoff spot. Ivy came within a whisker of upsetting powerful Jo-Jo's, bowing 8-6. The winners intercepted a Bruce Sandvik pass on Ivy's five-yard line and scored on the next play. The winning points came on a pass from Rick Sokolowski to Bill Spych for the two point conversion.

Ivy became the first team to score on Jo-Jo's in four games, when Steve Peters tallied on a pass interception.

In other games Hurry Back Inn rallied to defeat winless Merry-Go Round, 13-7, and Ewing rolled to its fourth straight win, crushing Big Johns AC, 21-12.

The standings:

	W.	L.	T.
Jo-Jo's	5	1
Ewing Giants	4	2
Hurry Back	4	2
Ivy Inn	3	3
Joe & Lena's	3	2	1
Big John's	2	3	1
Harrison AC	2	4
Merry-Go-Round	0	6

BOWLING NOTES

Murphy Rolls 627. Bill Murphy of Ivy Inn in the A League fashioned a 627 series last week at the Princeton Recreation Lanes, despite a final 180 game. He opened with 214-233. Jim Shely had 227, Claude Pinelli 220 and Bob Sculerati, 218. Between 205 and 201 were Joe Baldino, Wilton Rose, Bill Parks, Dan Tamasi, Vince Tufano and Al Cervaso.

Hesco Electric has widened its lead over Rialto Barber Shop in the standings to 45-36. Lucar Hardware has 30.

Shely, performing in the Nassau League, leveled 617 pins on games of 195-202-220. Teammates Larry McHugh and Jerry Perpetua had 226 and 203. They roll for Princeton Aviation.

Joe Baldino and Carmen Stefanelli, both of Hinkson's had 210 and 199, while Tom Herrman rolled 195.

Hinkson's with 37 points has the lead, trailed by Kingston Wine & Liquor (34) and Princeton Aviation (32).

In the Tri-County Firemen's League, Bele Mead's Ray Wyckoff sandwiched a fine 234 between 185-182 for a 601 series. Dick Anderson, Henry Sutphin and Bob Micinski all had 202s.

In the 190s were Jack Petrone, Gib Ireland (199) Steve Schalldonat, Don Koch, Ray Mount and Paul Terecky.

KFD has a tenuous grip on first place with 32 points. Bunched at 30-all are No. 3, Belle Mead and Kingston.

Mike Diamond with 149-148 was high last week in the Blue Angels Hi-Y high school league. Jeff Petrone and George Reynolds each rolled 145.

Strikes is on top in the four-team league with 12 points. Turkeys has 10, Hooks 8 and Chicks, 6.

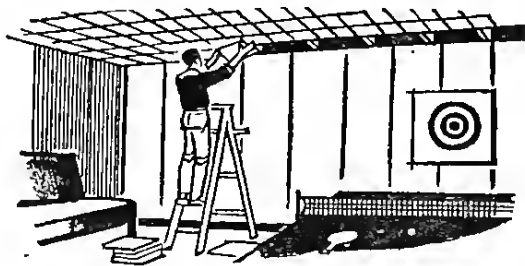

A high game of 192 was fashioned in the Business Women's League by Phyllis Boccannuso of Nassau Conover. Thorne's Caroline McDonald rolled a 187 — 59 pins over her average.

Others: Dail Forsyth, 172; Didi Waltman, 171-168; and Gail Echevarria, 170.

Nini Chrysler-Plymouth is in first place with 34 points. Only four points separate the next five teams: Carousel, University Cleaners, Balestrieri, Rocky Hill Inn and Tamasi Plumbing.

The Rising Generation

"THE TOUGHER THE TASK..."

By Mike McConnell, Class of 1970, Princeton High School

(This article, reprinted by request from Town Topics' May 28, 1970, issue, was considered such a clear expression of the young generation's point of view that it was reprinted by the Franklin Township Board of Education and circulated throughout that community.)

How can parents and kids develop more meaningful relationships? First, let's recognize the need for both parental friendship and parental guidance.

Not one or the other, but both, at the same time, and all the time. It is precisely this which makes the job of parent one of the most difficult. But, as in anything, the tougher the task, the more rewarding the success.

At a time when kids spend upwards of seven hours a day at school, those hours spent at home with parents can and need be fun, refreshing and revitalizing. Teachers are difficult to get close to. They have more than 100 students each, hardly a ratio to compete with that of parents to kids in most families. Coaches are no better off than teachers. Not as many kids to work with, but not as much time either.

There's always the family minister, but for many kids this potential adult friend is never considered. Who wants to pour out his failings and frustrations to a man who, compassionate and understanding as he may be, still must give you an appointment to see him and "Hi, how are you. Glad you came by to talk, and what did you say your name was?" Youth needs adult friendship, concern, example, and discipline, and it's got to come from parents.

There are two very different kinds of parents. One is the "Did you wipe your feet?", "Chew with your mouth closed," and "Did you clean up your room" sort.

They are correct parents, their kids wipe their feet, chew with their mouths closed, clean their rooms meticulously, and attempt to lose themselves in their away-from-home lives. They write their parents off as too old, distant, or old-fashioned.

A second type of parent is interested in what his child is doing, why he does it, and generates an interest on his child's part in the what and why of his own life.

He engages in "bull sessions," heads for the tennis courts for a best out of three, goes to see an "R" movie with his son; he and his children participate in the experience of life, with little "When we were kids we would..." or "Why don't you kids ever..." and a lot of "Hey why don't we..." This parent is providing real friendship.

At the same time, parents must strive to give their kids good advice, firm discipline, and a worthy example. This will provide kids with a good springboard from which to become masters of their own lives, confident that the decisions they make are not arbitrary but come from a developing maturity.

In a time of increasing confusion, misunderstanding, technology, rate of change, and an ever growing awareness of man's inhumanity to his fellow man, beast, and even the planet he inhabits, kids feel the need for a strong, cohesive family unit.

They need a family free from competition, free from abrasiveness — a family in which the concern of every member, and particularly the parents, is the well-being and the happiness of every other member.

A physical closeness is important in developing a cohesive family unit. Have meals together, spend evenings talking over dessert. Get the whole family outside for a basketball game in the driveway.

Parents owe it to their children to develop this closeness. Of all the kids I've talked to, at least 70% said that they hadn't asked to be born. The 30% minority, however, strongly asserted that in deciding, the expectation of parental friendship had been a big factor.

News Of The CHURCHES

C.O.P.E. AT WORK

In Pennington. The six churches of Pennington have formed C.O.P.E. (Christians of Pennington Ecumenical) to work together "on some of the things we find we cannot do separately."

The Rev. Walter Coats of the First Presbyterian Church of Pennington said in an interview last week, "We didn't want it to be a council of churches or a group of people speaking for the churches."

C.O.P.E. stems from a letter of inquiry sent last winter by Gerald Rau of the United Methodist Church to the other churches, which said, in effect, "Do you think we can do something better than we have been doing?"

"Jerry Rau became the enabler," the Rev. Mr. Coats remarks. "He touched a chord that was waiting to be touched. We went to the first meeting out of a sense of duty, but the sense became electric when we realized all we could do!"

Most of the members are from the leadership groups of the churches. It is almost a volunteering. They meet every six weeks. "We've gone from timidity to wait-and-see to almost a feeling of being among old friends. The first several meetings were very cautious—now they're open," Mr. Coats adds. A clergyman and two laymen represent each church.

"There is generally good relationship among the churches in Pennington," Mr. Coats continues. "The ministers have met for a number of years. We have shared ecumenical services for three or four years."

C.O.P.E. is chaired by Mr. Rau, with Marguerite Solomon of St. James as secretary. "We don't have a treasury—which I think is good, I think what we have been trying to do is not be organized within ourselves with our own little program or as a church within a church, but rather what are the talents that the churches have and what can we accomplish with them. At this point, the treasury becomes superfluous!"

"We are gaining understanding of each other. We're entering into common work in some very practical ways—Byron Lovell's 'Shared Resources' group, for instance. In the matter of audio visual aid—some of our churches have a lot of equipment, some of them haven't. Our resources include projectors and film strips. Some film strips have been in the church files for years."

"They are talking practicalities, thinking about sharing library facilities—rooms as well as books—also about sharing church maintenance, equipment and personnel. (most of the churches don't have a fulltime sexton or grass cutting machinery or snow removal equipment). Possibly we can share a sexton, or mutually buy equipment, such as a duplicating machine. Even on a small level, we can share know-how."

The C.O.P.E. groups include: Contact—on Worship, Dialogue, with Arnold Caffee of First Baptist Church as chairman; Special Projects, chaired by Sumner Barlow of St. James, and Groups to bring together existing groups, with Russell Jolly of First Presbyterian as chairman.

In addition to the worship services it has shared, the Contact group plans to get "four or five dialogues going during the balance of the year, talking about everything from religious traditions to the youth culture and housing." An ecumenical dinner is being considered. (Last year, 300 people attended the affair at St. James' Church). C.O.P.E.s Thanksgiving Eve service will feature the choirs of the six churches.

Special Projects "is designed to take on special ministries that come along from time to time." Pennington's two coffeehouses are sponsored by the Methodists and the Presbyterians; but C.O.P.E. is talking about a community coffeehouse sponsored by all of the churches. A common taxi service for Sundays and assistance with the Presbyterians' new "Meals on Wheels" program are also being discussed.

Existing Groups is surveying untouched areas of need. "I would guess that this would be the single adults or the young adults," Mr. Coats comments. "You know, a lot of us are doing the same thing. C.O.P.E. hasn't said that a church should drop an activity, but we are saying that no one church can do it all, and we can do it better together."

News Of The Churches

Also under consideration is the common training of church officers and teachers, and ecumenical calling upon newcomers to the area. We Presbyterians have been making monthly visits to newcomers for years," Mr. Coats adds wryly. "but people are beginning to say, 'couldn't this be ecumenical?'"

C.O.P.E. member churches are Pennington A.M.E., First Baptist, St. James Catholic, St. Matthew's Episcopal, United Methodist and First Presbyterian.

$25,000 IS GOAL

Of First Baptist Drive. One hundred and seventy members of First Baptist Church have pledged $100 each towards the $25,000 mortgage outstanding at First Baptist Church, John Street and Avalon Place. The target date for the drive is January 15, when a "$100-a-plate" dinner will be held at the Nassau Inn.

Many members of the Princeton community were instrumental in helping the church when the building fund drive began five years ago for the now completed $120,000 addition to the church. Tickets for the dinner are available to community supporters at $25 minimum per person. Reservations may be made with the church secretary (924-0877) or Mrs. Carl Brown Sr. (924-1038) by December 15.

The windup drive began last March 21, initiated by the Rev. Edward Smith, pastor, and the building fund committee, who are serving as the executive committee for the dinner. Members are Mrs. John Brown, chairman; John Gripper, co chairman; Mrs. Sylvester Hight, secretary; Mrs. Alfred Campbell, assistant secretary; Walter Dowers, treasurer, and Deacon William Skipwith, chaplain.

The publicity committee includes Mrs. Alexander Houghland, chairman; Mrs. Carl Brown Sr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, co chairman; Mrs. Morris Boyd, Miss Hettie Dean, Mrs. James Green, Mrs. Casper Hammond, Mrs. Zelma Hargraves, Mrs. Luella Holland, Redmond Marrow, William Swain, Mrs. Percy Sherman and Mrs. Donald Venable.

Program committee members are Mrs. Alfred Campbell, chairman; Mrs. Sylvester Hight, co chairman; Mrs. Carl Brown Jr., William Howard, Robert Montgomery and William Skipwith.

MUSIC SERVICE SET

At University Chapel, Kodaly's "Missa Brevis" will be presented by the Princeton University Chapel Choir this Sunday at 11. Carl Weinrich is director.

Soloists are Karla Johnson, Lorna Sawatsky, Sheryl Wingert, sopranos; Susan Berkson, alto; David Haffelt, tenor; Robert Dennis, bass, and Susan Farmer, organ.

SPEAKER: Rev. Dr. George E. Sweazey of Princeton Seminary, will address the family supper on Sunday at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. He was a moderator of the 1969 General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, USA, and has served on the Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations.

FAMILY SUPPERS BEGIN

At St. Andrew's, Family night suppers will be held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church this Sunday and next. Dr. George E. Sweazey of Princeton Seminary will be the opening speaker, and Wesley Ariarajah will speak on November 21.

The supper begins at 5:30 p.m. Each family is asked to bring three portions of a casserole, salad or dessert for each family member attending. There will be a special program for young children from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling the church office.

At the 10 a.m. service on Sunday, the Rev. F. Hugh Liffiton will preach on the topic, "Should the Church Finance Revolution?" Adult classes at 11 include, "The problems and joys of Parenthood," with the Rev. John Carr, assistant, as discussion leader, and "Church and Society Concerns — Housing" with a representative of the Tri-County Commission on Housing as speaker.

DIALOGUE SERMON SET

By Cleric and Layman. Rev. Dr. Walter Carvin and RCA physicist Robert Larrabee will give an illustrated dialogue sermon, "Are We Alone?", this Sunday during the 11 a.m. worship service at Princeton Baptist Church.

Dr. Larrabee, a member of the congregation, will use astronomy slides as he poses the question; Dr. Carvin's comments will be accompanied by slides of art masterpieces.

The service, to be held in the Christian Education building facing Washington Road at Penn's Neck Circle, will be followed by a discussion period.

ABRECHT TO SPEAK

At Princeton Seminary. "Technology, Development and Social Justice: The Work of the Churches" is the title of the lecture to be given by Rev. Paul R. Abrecht of the World Council of Churches on Monday, November 22, at Princeton Seminary. He will speak at 7:45 p.m. in the main lounge of the campus center.

The Rev. Mr. Abrecht, executive secretary of the World Council's department of Church and Society since 1954, directed a 1955-61 study on Christian responsibility in areas of rapid social change, in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

His report, "The Churches and Rapid Social Change," was published in 1961.

BULLETIN NOTES

"Growing Old" is the topic for the 10:05 a.m. dialogue this Sunday at First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck. The Rev. Claude L. Roe from the Presbyterian Synod Homes will be leader. Church school will be held at 9:30 a.m., beginning with the family worship service. At both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services, the Rev. James S. Weaver will preach on the "Age Before Beauty."

Beth Chaim, a reform congregation, will conduct Sabbath services at 8:30 p.m.

this Friday in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, One Mile Road Extension, Hightstown. An Oneg Shabbat and discussion follow. Children's services are scheduled for Saturdays at 11. Student Rabbi Posner requests that parents attend.

Story hours for children ages 5 to 7 are being held at the Institute for Advanced Study under the sponsorship of Christ Congregation, Walnut Lane. The hours are conducted by Elizabeth Stone, a student at Princeton Seminary. She is a graduate of Temple University with a degree in music and former member of teacher-training program of the Vermont Conference of the United Church of Christ. Story hours are set for Nov. 17, December 1, 8, and 15. For further information or to volunteer a gathering spot for another meeting place, call Miss Stone, 921-3790.

The Rev. Robert L. Cope preaches this Sunday at 9:30 and 11 on "Our Children's Church" at the Unitarian Church, State and Cherry Hill Roads.

FROM NINI PLYMOUTH TO PHS: Stan Lavis, general manager of Nini Chrysler-Plymouth presents keys to a new Plymouth to Edward Beacham, one of two driver ed instructors at Princeton High School. PHS senior David Peel is behind the wheel. The car, purchased by Nini Chrysler-Plymouth, was supplied to the school by Nini Motors owner Anthony Nini for use in its new driver ed program.

25 quiet secluded acres, a brook, a lake, woods, pasture, horse barn, lovely gardens, old shade and a six room old colonial house nestled into the landscape for $105,000, or with only six acres, $60,000.

E. F. MAY, Broker

"At The Crossroads" Great Rd. & County Rd. 513
Blawenburg 466-2800

This is a rare one! Four peaceful country acres offer all sorts of lovely living possibilities — a slope for skiing, a pond for skating or swimming, woods for wandering through, fields for playing, meadows for livestock grazing, a hilltop setting for the marvelous family house that overlooks it all and the seclusion to enjoy it. Stepping indoors is a bit of a wrench, but happily it's not a letdown. The large front hall, wide stairway, big windows in big rooms, decks adjoining bedrooms — all help to bring the great outdoors in.

Vital statistics: 40' living room, dining room opening on handsome terrace, library, kitchen with eating area, 5 bedrooms, 2 full, 2 half baths, and over all, huge informal playroom, potential dormitory and storage. Added attractions: a spacious yet cozy atmosphere, practical and aesthetic details for attractive living and entertaining, excellent construction and condition. All this and a good N.W. Township location 2½ miles from Palmer Square — that's what we mean by rare!

TWO LINE TEASERS

LESS EXPENSIVE THAN A RENTAL

Own your own home and do your own thing on a very pretty lot with an immaculate 3-bedroom house ready to move into. Located in Kingston on a safe side street where you can walk to public transportation. There's a nice entrance hall, carpeted living room, dining area, modern kitchen, family room and laundry. Upstairs are the 3 bedrooms and a bath. One car attached garage and large dry basement. A good buy at $37,000.

DON'T STAND IN THE COLD!

Come in and relax in front of any one of the 3 fireplaces. Here, on a quiet, woodsy road in West Windsor, is a property to tickle your fancy. Woods and a stream are yours — a private wild-life preserve. The kitchen is a dream with gay wallpaper, eating counter, lots of cabinet space — all very modern and very well done. Large dining room with fireplace, a brick-floored living room with fireplace and exposed beam ceiling has beautiful view of the woods. Panelled master bedroom also has fireplace and attached bath, is separated from the children's wing containing 2 more nice-sized bedrooms and another bath. It's conveniently close to shopping and commuting, yet provides the atmosphere of true country living. $47,500.

A LOT OF SPACE FOR THE MONEY

A Ranch home with enough rooms to bend to your personal life style. If you need 5 bedrooms you've got it (and 3 baths) or use one for a small den or study. Living room with fireplace has french doors opening to a very nice flagstone patio where the fencing, trees and other plantings maintain privacy. Dining et. kitchen and a family room complete the plan. Two car attached garage. Located in a fine residential area of Pennington.

Offered at $49,800

Maybe someday
all cars will be built like the Citroen.

Maybe someday.

Maybe it depends on you.

When you demand a car, for example, that would ride like a Rolls but costs like a Chevy. One that would take curves like a Maserati but seats a five full passengers. A car that would be in every sense a luxury car—yet burns gas like a tiny Volkswagen (27 MPG).

Maybe you could get that kind of car from Detroit if you demanded it. Or you could buy one right now. It's called a Citroen. Just go to your nearest Citroen dealer and test drive it.

Learn how good other cars may someday be; and how someday is today with a Citroen.

The difference between a dead-end cellar and a basement-for-living Without direct access to the out-of-doors, your basement becomes a seldom used, dead-end area, instead of a "live", low-cost space for the enjoyment of your whole family.

A BILCO Basement Door costs so little when it's included in the foundation construction. With it, you will as much as double the living space of your new home! Let us show you how easily and inexpensively you can include a BILCO Door and Stair Stringers in your building plans.

Surround yourself with trees, grass and history.

There's plenty of all three on what may be the highest spot between New York and Philadelphia. Certainly it's one of the most historic, if not the most beautiful. Just 15 homes will be custom built from your plans or ours abutting Greenacres Country Club Golf Course. Each will share in a sweep of common land . . . and in views and privacy all but vanished these days. Isn't all this worth $50,000 or more?

WE HAVE A VARIED AND CHOICE SELECTION OF COUNTRY PROPERTIES FOR YOUR INTEREST THIS WEEK. IF YOU DON'T SEE WHAT YOU ARE LOOKING FOR BELOW, PLEASE CALL US FOR OTHER LISTINGS THAT ARE AVAILABLE...

DO YOU ENJOY A RIDE TO THE HOUNDS? We have a farm house dating back to 1860 on the Linvale Road from which you could do just that! It rests on 102 choice acres (meadows, crests and woods) and is right in the heart of the Amwell Hunt country! The house needs work but what potential! Seven bedrooms, three baths, two parlors, dining room, library, kitchen, guest cottage, and many outbuildings. You could own one of the area's outstanding houses when finished... entire package $160,000

"SATIETY" Circa 1750. The choicest stone colonial — small, warm, inviting — with a magnificent view of the Amwell Valley, dating back to 1750. A cozy interior with the large fireplace, open beam ceilings, and wide pine floor boards. Resting on forty-four acres on the Rileyville Road, the entire property includes ample groves of trees, woods, vegetable gardens, potential guest house, and a converted barn-garage. A lot of work has been done... but there's still enough left for the next owner to be able to call it his own when finished. Thousands of feet of frontage for desirable subdivision AND all within three miles from the Hopewell Reading depot. (Entire package) $145,000

LOOKING FOR AN INCOME PROPERTY THAT WOULD ENABLE YOU TO BECOME LANDED GENTRY? There's our house dating farther back than 1805! 3 1/2 acres on the Griggstown Road between Princeton and Belle Mead. Presently a two family with an income of $3,600 per yr. and taxes of only $1,500! Opening 2 doors makes it a large gracious home or keeping it "as is" makes it ideal for the man who needs "write-off"! Each side has living room, dining room, and room, modern kitchen, two baths... one side has 4 bedrooms, the other 3. Fully restored in 1962, so mechanically, it's great. $74,500

WHO WOULDN'T WANT A COOO PIECE OF LAND TO CALL HIS OWN, YET NEAR ENOUGH TO PRINCETON TO HAVE THAT ADDRESS? Would you believe four acres... right on Rosedale Road in Lawrence Township? All this and a wonderfully convenient, solidly-built ranch house to boot! Three bedrooms, two baths, a large front to back living room with fireplace, comfortable dining room, functional kitchen, panelled den... and all centrally air-conditioned. A charming master suite with its own patio where the deer can nibble on your breakfast toast! $69,500

THERE'S A LITTLE BIT OF HEAVEN not too far from Princeton... called Griggstown. Quiet, somewhat isolated, well-scrubbed and scrubbed! Our latest listing there is a stone ranch in perfect condition... living room with fireplace, dining room immaculate kitchen, jalousied enclosed brick porch, three bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, utility room and huge partially finished basement. All on a half acre of trees and delightful grounds. Don't miss this! $79,500

A COUNTRY RANCH SECONDS FROM HOPEWELL AND MINUTES FROM PRINCETON... every inch of this custom-built ranch was supervised by the owner who's in the business! It's just about perfect! Living room with fireplace, delightful dining room, modern kitchen-family room where the wallpaper sings! Three enormous bedrooms, two ceramic baths, lots of storage and a huge basement. Trees, gardens, wishing well, and a panoramic view of a beautiful valley, 1.08 acres $63,500

WOODED LOTS FOR SALE! A MOST ATTRACTIVE SETTING IN A NEARBY TOWNSHIP JUST OUTSIDE HOPEWELL. Some with a brook and stream... please call us for details.

PRINCETON

AT THE EDGE OF MANSROVE ROAD, the perfect town ranch — on a comfortable, easy-to-maintain lot (100x170) — living room with fireplace & french doors to the covered terrace, separate dining room, panelled den, eat-in kitchen, three large bedrooms, two fully ceramic tiled baths (with tubs and showers!) Just up a few steps is a perfect hideaway for guests (or in-laws)... super large bedroom with another full bath! Below there's a huge recreation room with fireplace (and moosehead!), painted shuffleboard court, and powder room. Large storage area, work shop, furnace room, too. $72,500

TWO ACRES AND A FISH POND RIGHT IN PRINCETON TOWNSHIP IS ABOUT ALL ANYONE COULD ASK FOR! On Gallup Road, a Buccell-built five bedroom, 2 1/2 bath colonial with two fireplaces... one in the front-to-back living room, one in the panelled family room; huge kitchen, screened porch; fish pond and many other extras. Take a peek soon. $89,500

RATTLEFIELD PARK AREA... the small house with soft brick facade, and long low lines... all set off by mature shrubs and trees, and rich carpet-like lawn. Large living room with fireplace, dining room, wonderful kitchen with breakfast area, two bedrooms, two baths, panelled recreation room with wet bar and powder room. Central air-conditioning. New carpeting. Freshly painted. Lots of expansion possibilities. $105,000

LAWRENCE NORRIS KERR, REALTOR
32 Chambers St. Princeton Tel. 924-1416
Sales: Anne S. Stockton

Plan ahead and consider these fine properties that can be seen now with occupancy in 1972.

Just under half acre lot with trees and a brook, 2 story colonial house. Living room with fireplace, study with outside entrance, dining room, kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, full cellar, walk-up attic and one car garage. Available Sept. 1. $56,000

One and 1/3 acres with trees, and great privacy in Western Section. The sloping land makes the house appear to be one story on the front and two story on the rear. There is an entrance hall, large living room, two bedrooms, two baths, and kitchen on the upper floor and utilities and large living room or library with fireplace and lots of extra space which could be finished. This house was built for a couple, but because of the large and protected area this property is excellent for a family and the house can be made suitable with very little if any exterior change. Available June 1.

Large three story house on beautifully planted lot, centrally located, occupancy Sept. Entrance hall, living room, library, dining room, all with fireplaces, eat-in modern kitchen, laundry, 6 family bedrooms, 4 1/2 baths, 3 servants' rooms, bath. All of the main rooms are large. This is a very comfortable and convenient house and fine for a large family. $125,000

This is THE House in the Woods and just try to find a prettier spot or a house nicer than this one. The entrance hall has handsome living room and formal dining room on one side—the pretty panelled and beamed family room with fireplace on the other side—so there's lots of room for a party (or parties). A superb kitchen with breakfast area overlooking stone terrace and rock garden plus four bedrooms and lots more make this over 1 1/2 acre "homestead" just perfect. $89,500.

MAKE LIFE A LITTLE EASIER Wonderfully located borough house on a private but not large lot offers all the joy of id-town living — walking to school or shopping — a block to the N.Y. bus. etc. as well as plenty of living space — including living room with fireplace — separate sunny dining room, modern kitchen, spacious family room, four excellent bedrooms. $50's.
